"You're Infant Master of Screen," James W. Dean Writes Baby Peggy

She concluded by telling of the contrast between the personal and political viewpoint of the Englishman, giving as an illustration a story which exemplified her contention.

Lowell, Mass., March 9, 1922.

Press the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orange-White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quart-size lot of harmless and delightful lemon-beach lotion to soften and whiten red, rough or chapped hands. This home-made lemon lotion is far superior to glycerin and rose water to smoothen the skin. Famous stage beauties use it to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, because it doesn't irritate.—Adv.

House Leaders Undismayed
by Controller Crissinger's
Announcement

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Announcement yesterday by Controller of the Currency Crissinger that if the revised soldier bonus bill is passed he will advise national banks not to accept adjusted compensation certificates as security for loans to ex-service men, created a stir among members of congress, but leaders regarded it as unlikely that his stand would avert a majority of the ways and means committee members from their determination to report the measure to the house.

TAKE GUDÉ'S PEPTO-MANGAN

It is the Safe and Reliable Tonic
Used by Physicians for 30 Years

There are "new styles" even in medicine. A new "fad" comes, is popular for a while, and then fades out of public view. A remedy that has stood the test for thirty years must have remarkable merit and cannot be called a "fad." Such is Gude's Pepto-Mangan, originated by Dr. A. Gude over a quarter century ago, which has helped many thousands of people back to good health by improving the blood. Pepto-Mangan is an iron tonic. It contains iron in a special form easily absorbed by the system. It puts color into the lips and cheeks and improves the entire body by improving and enriching the blood. It is sold by druggists in both liquid and tablet form. If you want to be well and strong and look thin and healthy, take Gude's Pepto-Mangan.—Adv.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatre's Own Press Agents.
B. F. KETH'S THEATRE
Kato Kibana and Sam Williams, who are appearing in an indelible skit at the B. F. Keith theatre this week, are among the best known of vaudevillians playing today. Everything that they do has a certain clarity to it and everything they do has the quality of "getting over." Rae Eleanor Ball and her brother Joseph, in a masterly performance of unusual merit, have kept their friends of former years and have added many to the increasing circle. Their act is of very high caliber. A comedy that is as unusual as it is well done is "Show Me," played by Walter Fenner & Co., while Faber & McGowan in a talking skit are lively all the way through. Other acts of the bill are Van & Tyson, dancers; Florence Brady, singer, and Roy & Arthur in a juggling comedy.

SUNDAY AT THE STRAND

The special vaudeville attraction at the strand for Sunday will be Noah's Five Syncretists. This act is regarded among the very best in high class vaudeville and will unquestion-

FIVE CENT FARE NOT TO RETURN UNTIL 1928

BOSTON, March 10.—Mayor Curley's campaign promise to obtain a five-cent fare for Boston patrons of the Elevated road received a severe, if not fatal, setback yesterday at the hands of Attorney-General Allen. Likewise patrons of the Eastern Massachusetts street railway (the Bay State) are hit hard as far as hope for lower fares is concerned.

Mr. Allen in an opinion given to the house committee on rules states that all bills introduced into the legislature looking to a resumption of the five-cent fare on either road are unconstitutional.

The attorney general takes this position, in brief, because the public control acts, under which both roads are now operating through the medium of trustees, are contracts between the state and the two street railway corporations.

In other words that the state has made contracts with the roads and must live up to those contracts. There can be no change in the method, the attorney general rules, until the terms of the contract have expired. In the case of the Elevated the public control act or contract does not expire until 1928. The Bay State contract expires about the same time.

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 10.—Rabbi Raphael Victor Landau, and daughter, Miss Landau, have just arrived here from Rome, Italy, after being robbed of all their property. Their house in Rome was shot to pieces and they lived in the cellar three nights. Rabbi Landau takes charge of the Synagogue Adath Yeshurun here.

EDITOR THREATENED BY KU KLUX KLAN

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., March 10.—A threatening letter received by the editor of a local newspaper was the latest development of supposed Ku Klux Klan activities in this country today. The letter was signed "K.K.K." and addressed to A. M. Keene, editor of the Midway Driller. It said:

"Let this be a warning to you and to all those connected with your office and your correspondents which means those who send out reports from the fields."

"We don't want any more such reports as have been sent out and insist that you take into yourselves that silence is golden."

STOCK BROKERS FAIL

NEW YORK, March 10.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed today against the Russell Securities Corporation, stock brokers. The petition made no mention of assets or liabilities.

Marie's Lunch opens tomorrow.

FOR REGISTRATION OF ALIENS IN U. S.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 10.—Public support for a measure which, it was said, congress soon would be asked to enact as a law and, which would provide for the annual registration of aliens in the United States was urged in an address here by E. J. Hennings, assistant secretary of labor.

"Such a law would help aliens toward becoming American citizens," he said. Mr. Hennings, for with the registration fees they pay, educational work would be conducted to acquaint them with American ideas and ideals.

In addition, we have the right to know at all times where these alien among us are and what they are doing."

Secretary of Labor Davis, who was himself an immigrant, and is an American by naturalization, is urging this law in the interest of the welfare of the alien."

GIRL RESERVE CLUB

A demonstration by the Girl Reserve club of the grade school and high school divisions is to be given tonight in the Y.W.C.A. The demonstration will consist of presentation of the different activities of the work carried on by that institution. The first half will consist of gymnastics, first aid and an initiation service in which the reserve grade girls take their vows. The second half will be made up of work of the high school branch.

POLICE ORDERS READ TO NIGHT SHIFTS

A list of orders, some of them new and others old, were read to the night patrolmen of the local police force at roll-call last night. The orders were also read at all roll-calls today.

Of the new orders the most important are: Officers receiving damage to their clothing or equipment while on duty will report same to superintendent so that city may bear expense; the appointment of Captain David Petrie of the night desk to have charge of the assignment of officers to routes; and the appointment of Chief Frederick Carter as acting foreman of the police garage.

WILL BUILD WATER
PURIFICATION PLANT

A water purification plant for the purpose of purifying the mill water supply of the Lowell Bleachery in Carter street is being built in the yard of the corporation at an estimated cost of $55,000. Building permits for the erection of the purifying tank and a steel storage tank were issued this week in the city buildings department. The purifying tank is of concrete construction and has a basin of 135 by 75 feet. The steel storage tank has a capacity of 216,500 gallons. The builder is the William M. Bailey Co. of Boston.

PUMP COMPANY
BILLS HELD UP

Mayor George H. Brown has held up bills of the Mills-Chubb Pump Co. amounting to $1652.01, presented for repairs work done on the pump at the West Sixth street station in February and January of this year. The Pumping Co. bill amounts to $135.50, while the prior charge is in the sum of $1243.11. The mayor questions items providing charges of $15 per day per man, plus charges of $15 per man for meals and rooms.

Another bill held up by the Mayor is from the Lowell Gas Light Co. in the sum of $3720.15 for street gas lighting for February. It is believed that this bill is held up only temporarily, or until some agreement is reached between the gas company and the city on the new lighting contract.

place that he might become eligible for it through examination, Colonel Stevens replied that that, too, was something on which he could not comment at present.

Earlier in the day Tyler A. Stevens, brother of Col. Stevens and an avowed candidate for the position, said that he still was in the fight.

"I have been a candidate for the position for a year," he said, "and my brother's connection with the matter does not alter my position in the least."

Questioned regarding the possibility of his brother accepting the position temporarily, Mr. Stevens said that probably he would, because of close friendship with Congressman Rogers.

"I do not think, however, that I want the position permanently if he should become eligible for it," he added. "In fact, he has told me that he does not want it and would not consider it."

Former Mayor Candidate

Hon. Perry D. Thompson has scores of local men and women working in his interests for the position and in addition has received offers of assistance from state and national office holders of high station.

"Certainly I am a candidate for the postmastership," said the former mayor today and intimated that already he has taken forward strides in his campaign.

"I know quite a bit about the postal department, you know," said Mr. Thompson. "For I spent many hours in the local office when my father served as postmaster."

It was the general opinion about town today that the former mayor is admirably fitted for the position inasmuch as he has had so much training as an executive, both in handling men and civic problems.

special police as yet, although the squad of police guards continue on regular duty at the Bay State cotton mills.

The opening of the mill gates this morning not only surprised some of the operators on strike, but convinced them now, they say, that the Hamilton officials have no intention of discussing wage matters with the union heads.

Gompers Reception Plans

The reception to President Samuel Gompers of the A. F. of L., who is to address a monster mass meeting in Lowell at the Colonial theatre, Old Fellows building in Middlesex street, next Monday night, promises to eclipse any labor rally ever held in Lowell in the past 10 years. Because of the Gompers flying visit on short notice, the Sunday afternoon rally, at which Mrs. Sarah A. Conboy was to speak, will probably not be held.

President John Hanley of the textile council is expected to deliver a letter from Mr. Gompers explaining the latter's speaking tour (literary).

President Gompers is also to speak in Manchester, N. H., next week. On Sunday afternoon he will speak in Pawtucket and in the evening will address a rally in Providence to support the Rhode Island textile workers in their fight for better wages and working hours.

From Providence Mr. Gompers expects to come to Lowell. Arrangements are being made today for a mighty reception, in which every union labor organization in Lowell and Middlesex county will be invited to participate.

Last night the Polish textile workers union held a meeting in Northbrook hall with John Belasco presiding. A Polish organizer from Newmarket, N. H., President John Hanley and Walter G. Roads presided over the speakers addressed the meeting, and a large number of operatives were enrolled under the union banner.

LOWELL DRIVING CLUB

Lowell Horsemen and Visitors

Have Big Time at Annual Banquet

The sixth annual banquet and talk feast of the Lowell driving club was held in Highland hall last night and it was an extremely lively event from oyster stew to Neapolitan ice and thence across the dead line to ex-Mayor White from down the river to "Pop" Fletcher of Littleton and everyone else acquainted with an up-to-date half-mile. To be sure there were rare occasions—very rare and also very, very, very dry—when the days of long ago were pictured a little too colorfully to suit some of the boys who helped lick the daisies and then came back to lick up something that savored of real investigating qualities, only to find the white aprons piled away on the shelf, the brass faucets rusty and every corker turned into door latches for

RHEUMATIC NEURITIS LIKE HEAVY WEIGHT ON SHOULDER

Pain, Stiffness, Numbness Common Symptoms—Many Claim Weldon Effective

Rheumatic neuritis of the shoulder and arms is a common complaint during the cold weather. One should consult his doctor immediately, as rarely does this ailment pass off without treatment. The chief complaint may be the experience of a heavy weight on the shoulder, difficulty in getting the arm to the head, or pain when putting a coat on. Numbness of the fingers and stiffness of the shoulder, with marked pain at night and weakness of the hands are other symptoms. The arms get tired when holding a newspaper, sewing, sweeping, etc. Keep the arms warm, avoid sitting near open windows unless well clothed. Many claim Weldon has entirely rid them of rheumatic neuritis, and when ordinary remedies fail, one is pretty sure to find relief in this preparation. Send to Weldon Company, 132 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass., for free book, "Weldon's Rheumatism." Get Weldon now, today, from A. W. Dowd and all reliable druggists.—Adv.

the new prohibition parlors, warranted all pure milk and honey. More than 250 followers of the Golden Cove, Short Ship, Long Ship and a few other fast-moving merry-go-rounds representing the half-mile, succeeded in hitting the Branch street track last night, rounding the last turn and sailing for glory into the assembly hall where the crack horsemen of Lowell and vicinity, many of them armed cap-a-pie in rathskellar aprons all bound round with the white strings, chefs, cooks and waiters for the nonce, provided with rare ability one of the finest menus for a crowd of hearty meat-wallopers ever set before a similar throng in the history of the Spindie City trotting game. No horseman's round-up in the merry sextet of animals, hardy and otherwise, ever brought together a more notable collection of all who are renowned and dyed-in-the-wool than that of the splendid gathering. If Tom Braden or Brother Goyette, Arnold Ryan, or Lewis Clark—and even Matt Bradford and Johnny Denny and Jockey Maguire and Joe Annis were there—overlooked anybody in the quest line last evening, their sins will be forgiven, for the name all the Golden Cove enthusiasts and out of town guests of honor who sat down to the first oyster stew and wound up by planting far down below the equator on top of a host of other good things in the feed line a brick of extra cold ice cream would be to grab up the directory and begin with the "A's." They were all there—they were all set for a real evening—and they left no runners up. The scorecards dazzled the eyes of all the fans last night, and the head table sparkled like a row of brilliant of the No. 1 water—for of course it was water, water everywhere, with the name of Volstead wreathed in metaphorical black. All the same, the diners regretted nothing—they had all the prize packages in the line of invited guests any horse club could wish for.

Not content with mayors and ex-mayors and local "pols" galore, there was Frank Muzzey, race track antique and acquainted with the 1-2-3 method of plucking the best pools, eliminating the also-rans, always. President Adrian J. Wilson of the Little old Bay State circuit, Judge James L. Stuckney of Nashua; Frank P. Kenney, representing the American Horse Breeders; L. E. "Pop" Fletcher of Littleton, who made many new friends and got one of the finest receptions of the torch evening; Lester Dore, a No. 1 horseman, (record A. A. A. always); Deputy Sheriff George T. Stiles, another popularity favorite, and a royal sportsman, Justin Edwards, founder of the Short Ship.

Brother Herbert A. Rugg acted as ope-man, reception committee, alert ticket dispenser, program distributor and general factotum in the same old genial style with the Rugg label. Herb's extreme anxiety to see that the horse writers great and small got good front seats, was appreciated by the one-side-plans trenchermen. Secretary Ryan occupied a sturdy front seat with the other roy notable and kept tabs on the good stuff to be chronicled in the club record books, but no speech was forthcoming, much to the "sore" friends' disappointment. Heaps of credit for the successful round up last evening must go to Brother Ryan, of course. The squad of driving club stellar lights responsible for the hearty banquet included Thomas H. Braden, Lewis C. Clark, Matthew Bradford, Ralph Harvey, Joseph Annis, Joseph Davidson and Peter A. Goyette. Of course President Wotton was constellation-in-chief.

The supper included cold corned beef, oyster stew, potted head cheese, plain ham, minced ham, pressed ham, pickles, baked beans, rolls, cake, for cream and a few more tidbits. Excellent cigars went around the tables after the feasting. Tables were set for 175 members and guests, but many more sat down to a "second table" to make the banquet complete. It was the biggest gathering local horsemen ever entertained, and singers great sport ahead at Golden Cove when the new half-mile track is ready. Excellent music was provided by Nayman's orchestra, with every late jazz number on the program. An added feature was the Mendelssohn male quartet—The Harrys—Harry N. Patten,

Harry H. Pascall, C. Harry Howard and Harry C. Needham.

After the "Town Talk" Thousand Island dressing, the tartar sauce, olive-oil and other condiments had been wiped from the banquet cloths and storage shed. Pres. Wotton rang the starting bell. Every seat was taken and scores of fans stood by the "rails." Not a Lowell stable was unrepresented. All classes were free-for-all with stakes easy. The White Ribbon leaguers would have had a new lease of life had any of them struck Highland hall at 8.15 p. m.

Looking younger than ever and thoroughly inured for the occasion, President Wotton, forgetting the manacles for one evening, dropped the flag and everybody flocked to the pole. Mr. Wotton remarked that it was a pleasant evening, a pleasant bunch of people hereabouts and handed out a few more bouquets to one and all. He also called attention to next Tuesday night's club meeting, which is of vital interest to the members.

The president then paused a moment, asking the members to stand silently in remembrance for five honored and beloved members of the club, who passed away the home stretch since the last banquet. All present arose in solemn tribute to the memory of the departed members, Isaac Bradley, Arthur T. Munn, Caleb L. Smith, Dr. Amasa Howard and James S. Hanson. Mr. Hanson was the first president of the Lowell Driving Club.

Ex-Mayor James P. O'Donnell was introduced as toastmaster for the evening, receiving a warm greeting, all doors standing once more and joining in a very fine tribute to one of the most popular members of the Golden Cove organization. The ex-mayor said he was glad indeed to be "Jimmy" on the spot, as he had been referred to by President Wotton.

"I admit that I'm getting a bit heavy," said the ex-mayor gravely, "and probably shall have to join the Pat Men's club. And that is why I arrived here tonight a little late. I stayed away so I wouldn't have to eat. At the same time, I know this dinner could not be surpassed anywhere if it is anything like what the driving club always puts up. The last dinner I attended could not be beaten."

Mr. O'Donnell praised the fine reputation of the club in the world of sports, calling it "the most hospitable body" he had ever seen. He predicted that the officers of the club would keep up this reputation in the years to come. He regarded the institution as a great success in every way, both as a social organization and one of business. He praised the wonderful array of track hands that are harbored in Lowell, calling the list one "to be proud of." Local horsemen he regarded as high class in every respect and worthy of supporting in their plans for the extension of the sporting game at Golden Cove.

The male quartet supplied "We're Marching On" and received an encore, then came Mayor Brown, introduced by the ex-mayor as "a man who had the best interests of the horsemen as well as the people of Lowell at heart."

The mayor was very brief. He expressed pleasure at his cordial reception and showered fulsome praises on the driving club. He recalled former days when, he said, he had the help of numerous local horsemen in his political campaigns. He promised to add the club in anything it might do to keep Lowell in the forefront at all times in matters of recreation. He described efforts that are being made, he claimed, to provide better streets for the city. He favored all improvements asked for, but declared that it would take considerable time and asked the horsemen to "be patient."

Next on the speaker's program was Orator Fournier, introduced as a genuine Lowell booster with a high code of principles. He praised the ambitions of the organization and lauded its unselfishness and fairness in all things tending to revive racing at Golden Cove and give the people of Lowell splendid outdoor sport.

Ex-Mayor White, as usual, got an uproarious greeting from friends, old and new. The Lawrence visitor was all set for a real speech, and handed it out directly from the old shoulder. He paid earnest respects to Mayor Brown who smiled at him through those new tortoise shell specs in justful acknowledgment. Mr. White, in rosiest vein and bubbling over the sardonic glances, new jokes and quips that provided a merry mixture for the after-dinner verbal feast, said a Lowell horseman's banquet was just the thing "to make one feel his oats."

He paid silent respects to "old man Muzzey" who rattled by, luring four crusts of bread, a dried oyster and a couple of paper napkins at the White headpiece.

When the crowd quieted down, Brother White, in Caesar-like version of all that is radiant of approbation, enquired the driving club members that they know how to provide the where-with-all for a jazy time at Golden Cove with fresh trimmings from the jockey boards. He said he never knew a finer bunch of horsemen anywhere, giving even Brother Muzzey a fair margin of popularity when it comes to chronicling "frats" on the good-fellow entries.

He complimented the Golden Cove track game, declaring it better sport down the line than he was able to find on any other Bay State oval.

"I'm an 'ex' now, boys," he went on.

WISE WOMEN

A famous medical man of ancient times states regarding his writings that they were but a collection of knowledge obtained from the "Wise Women."

Do you realize that in those times the women, and not the men, knew about the healing properties of medicinal plants, roots and herbs? From the earliest times, women had a knowledge of the treatment of disease and of the healing merit of roots and herbs.

Lady E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was originated by a woman, Lydia E. Pinkham, and is now known and praised by women of all ages. It is prepared from roots and herbs having medicinal nation of great value in the treatment of troubles women so often have.—Adv.

"But I'm not going to be an 'ex' very long. I did a little something for Lawrence that they won't forget down here. I sized a lot of land for the horse game down there. It cost $50,000, and I was defeated for mayor, but that deal is going to be my epitaph. I am the father of good roads down in Lawrence. The look is open. And the people of that city can thank me, boys, for their fine roads—don't forget that! I am not waiting away down there now! You can see that I'm still on earth. And when the season opens up here in old Lowell, my friends, I'll be in Lowell!"

President Wilson, of the Bay State, gave the banqueters a little history of racing, praised the Lowell club and its sturdy and progressive membership, and told of the pleasant associations he had always had with Secretary Ryan, whom he considered "one of the finest sportsmen hereabouts."

The president announced that the Bay State is to have $100,000 in purse money this year, and 10 solid weeks of racing, with one week still open. He hoped the Golden Cove half-mile would be ready in season to grab that lone week, and assured the sportsmen present last night that a Bay State week here would be appreciated by every horseman in the old Bay State. He announced that the game has been rehabilitated in Northampton, Greenfield and Windsor. He predicted more cold racing, believing it to be best for the game of the future. Purse as high as $2,000 are offered by some Short Ship tracks this year for two and three-year-olds. The president acknowledged his high and sincere regard for the Lowell Driving club officials and for Lowell's warm hospitality every day in the year. "I am glad to know that you are going to have a full half-mile track," the president continued. "I believe when a horse scores a 154 that he should be placed in the 20 class afterward. The greatest troubles we have had in the past are concerned with the placing of

YALE UNDERGRADUATE WEDS CHORUS GIRL

NEW YORK, March 10.—Robert S. Savage, 20, a Yale undergraduate and football player who writes poetry, today was awaiting word from his mother as to her attitude toward his marriage to Geneva Mitchell, 17, Broadway chorus girl.

If Mrs. Savage, who is the widow of John A. Savage, steel manufacturer of Duluth, Minn., decides it is all right, he will return to his school work and his athletics, and the youthful Mrs. Savage will return to her footlight career. If Mrs. Savage, the elder, decides it is all wrong, young Mr. Savage doesn't exactly know just what he will do.

The boy and girl romance became known last night, when the college youth and his girl wife were found at a hotel, after their marriage at Milford, Conn., last Sunday.

"I first saw my wife in a page slick race in the show she was then playing in," he said. "She won the race."

TRYING TO STAMP OUT OLD SUPERSTITIONS

JAFFA, Palestine, March 10.—The British administration in Palestine is trying to stamp out some of the peculiar superstitions of the fellahs (peasants) and has appointed a committee of district governors to advise it as to the best method of attaining that purpose.

After four years of occupation, the authorities are beginning to realize that superstition plays an important role in keeping the peasants in ignorance.

Some of the native beliefs are very interesting. One government official discovered that he had transgressed a tradition the other day when he stepped over a baby's cot as he crossed a village street.

His action was noticed by a group of women who halted him and told him he would have to retrace his steps or the baby would surely die. As their attitude was menacing, he did so to save himself from attack.

The same official on another occasion was invited to take lunch with the Moukhtar (head) of a village. As he entered the guest chamber, he stumbled and he fell headlong on the floor. The host told him that his falling was sure to bring bad luck to the village unless he saw fit to forego the lunch.

It is a common practice for girls to visit their "prophets" (tomb) and lay there pieces of their garments, believing that by so doing they are sure to get married soon. Sometimes they go without food or drink for seven days for the same purpose.

Married women who have no children, trying to avoid divorce, go to cemeteries and walk over children's tombs in order to have some of their own. Often to be blessed with children, they go to mosques, walk seven times around the building and then smash an egg in the gateway.

These are only a few of the odd customs which are commonly practiced by the fellahs and which the government is anxious to destroy.

BIG DISTILLERY AND WEAPONS SEIZED

SPRINGFIELD, March 10.—The largest distillery of moonshine liquor so far discovered by federal agents in western Massachusetts, a plant with three 60-gallon copper boiler stills constructed over cement base ovens, was seized yesterday afternoon in an isolated farm house on the Springfield-East Longmeadow boundary line.

The officers confiscated 100 gallons of moonshine and 2000 gallons of mash. They also seized two revolvers and a shotgun which were placed within easy reach of the operators of the stills. Three men were arrested.

$500,000 WORTH OF NARCOTICS SEIZED

NEW YORK, March 10.—One hundred pounds of narcotics and one alleged drug vendor, were in the hands of the police today as a result of a raid on the headquarters of a drug-peddling gang believed to have engaged in the wholesale smuggling of the habit-forming poisons the past several months.

The drugs seized were valued by federal officials at $500,000, vendors' prices.

Titled as "Uncle Frank," Brother Muzzey, prosperous follower of the Short Ship line, got a crushing receipt when he arose and leaned forward. The boys around the white tables loudly referred to Frank as "Honest Abe," and there was a resemblance. Stories new and somewhat rare, full of his bits at local horsemen and outside notables, were told by Mr. Muzzey in his first year. The verbally clever and the hamperer with bits about the horsemanship and follies of certain Lowell gentlemen, and didn't overlook "Pop" Fletcher. He told of arriving in Lowell at 1 p. m. of a murky experience with the city's sewer system, and of the blighting effects of the cold air drafts in the Middlesex street railroad station. He claimed they "were all working" when he dropped in. He went back as far as the days of Benjamin F. Butler, whom he praised vehemently and called "a good governor." This tribute caused general hand-clapping in memory of "then."

His first experience with a bottle of Lowell sarsaparilla made an instantaneous hit. His stirring bouts with sulphur and something stronger also brought tears to the eyes of many horsemen with fond memories that never die. He recalled the day back in 1899 when Brother Oscar Power (who was absent last night) made a wonderful record with Little Prince. His yarn about "Pop" Fletcher in swimming, with a constable on shore guarding the Fletcher pantaloons, hickory shirt and necktie, caused another small riot.

Mr. Kenney, next in line, was brief. He praised the local religion, said he knew what kind of sport was being conducted at Golden Cove, and urged greater publicity for the local game. He advised everyone to boost the county fair proposition.

"Pop" Fletcher, next to the last on the evening's list of speakers, woke up the gathering in great shape with a rousing address, indicating that "Pop" can talk as well as drive Mario S. or Patsy Hogan and a few others under the Fletcher colors. Mr. Fletcher said he liked Lowell, Golden Cove and the local horsemen who caused the race line events here. He never had any better sport in all his experience in New England racing than when he took earlier in the evening, "Pop" subsided in the Cove, he declared vigorously.

"If Pitchburg had awakened and accomplished what you have done, racing wouldn't be a dead game up there. You have the right spirit," said L. E. He approved of the proposed agricultural fair. Nothing benefits the racing game any better than a real county exhibition, he said. He first suggested racing at the Barre fair, and racing made the fair pay. He believed the Lowell championship of commerce "ought to boost the fair proposition for the horsemen." After getting back at Brother Muzzey for the latter's aspersions hurled at him peared to know a good deal about Lowell and Lowell horsemen, much to their credit. He praised the newspapers of the city for their steady and cordial support of the local racing game year in and year out, and said he hoped all the members of the club appreciated what the Lowell pen-pushers were always willing to do to help along the track meetings at Golden Cove.

Before the crowd adjourned for the old home rendezvous and blankets, Brother Muzzey appeared in the role of farwell poet, putting over an original skit entitled "Tennessee Bill" that nearly extinguished the Welshbachs.

THE FIRST LOG DRIVE IN YEARS

Manchester, N. H., Soon to Witness Revival of the "Timber Float" Game

Men Still Living Here Were Members of the Old
Logging School

From Manchester, N. H., comes a news dispatch, brief but full of interesting information though condensed into 50 words in telegraphic code. It is the announcement that Manchester citizens will soon see their first log drive down the mighty river waters in 25 years, when a lumber concern now building a sawmill above the textile city of the Granite State, starts the big timber "float" down the river after the ice breaks up.

The log drive is coming! Ages ago, it now came, when that old familiar cry was heard in Lowell, "timber float down the river." The Merrimack waters, and you will find here and there, seated comfortably in away back office chairs by the side of blazing log fires or steam radiators, of the old logging school, who remember distinctly when the logs from far up the headquarters of the Merrimack came down the river stretches in the spring of the year to the Lowell sawmills.

It was a stirring picture, old-timers tell us, when the spruce and pine logs came swirling down the big stream. Many Lowell citizens living today and with good memories can tell the layman concerning years of the great lumber drives. More than one gentleman of the local lumber trade still "behind the counter" in mill yard offices, can relate tales of daring log-jumpers and pike men that make the blood tingle and eyes open widely. These were strenuous days for Lowell lumber "floaters"—the days now but a memory.

Millions of feet of log woods came to this city by way of the river waters, to be cut up into lumber for the building trades all over the country. It was the heyday of the logging industry some 40 years ago.

Lowell lumber interests performed their even logging in the old days, was just before the Spanish-American war when the last millions of feet of spruce and pine came floating down the Merrimack to find a resting place in the quiet waterways leading to the sawmills.

One Who Remembers
Among the old-time rivermen who "played the game" far up in the Merrimack river country and around Woodstock in the days when most of the lumber used in this section of the country floated down the Merrimack before being cut up into boards and timbers, is Warren Norcross, well known Lowell citizen living at 227 NeSmith street. Mr. Norcross first entered the north woods when he was about 17 years of age. He remained in the logging industry, working in the timber lands and on the river floats down to Lowell, engaging in all kinds of work necessary to get the big pines and spruces down to the Lowell mills and having many narrow escapes on the waters as he "rode logs" down the stream armed with long hand spikes or plectrums.

Mr. Norcross is in his 59th year, his next birthday coming next November. He has not been in the heat of health for a year or more, but at the Norcross residence on NeSmith street, under the care of a trained nurse, he is getting along very nicely.

This well known Lowell citizen and old-time frequenter of the river ways gave The Sun an interesting description of some of the big "drives" that used to take two months or more to one time, slipping while trying to run logs, a stubborn log and breaking his left leg. Recovering from that mishap, he returned to his work and kept on for numerous years, finally reaching "high up" in the game on the waters. He was an expert log stripper. He knows almost every foot of the country, including the hills and valley districts, where much lumber came from, up around Woodstock and Plymouth and beyond.

Fluke & Norcross
The firm of Fluke & Norcross, old-time Lowell concern engaged extensively in the lumber business for years and great log drivers down the Merrimack, has brought down the stream as much as 14,000,000 feet of logs in one spring drive from up the river. Isaac W. Norcross was in charge of the work most of the time. Another splendid man whom Warren Norcross remembers well was an employee named Royal Boston, who lived in Woodstock, but came originally from Maine. Boston was a powerfully built woodsman, who had charge of 200 or more men cutters each winter, and he knew how to handle them.

Mr. Norcross at his home today described exciting incidents that occurred during the lumber cutting up in the Baker's river country. The wages were anywhere from $1.25 a day to $3, according to ability. Excellent food was always furnished the men, and warm lodgings.

Mr. Norcross is kept pretty closely to his home now because of a broken left hip that he suffered about a year ago. The bones did not set properly, and he is hindered greatly in walking about, although his general health is very good. He is a great lover of buttermilk, drinking it whenever he is thirsty and delighting in its invigorating qualities.

He recalls many interesting bits of river life in and about Lowell. One concern here lost so many logs by the breaking of the boom in the river above the city, that it erected a large sawmill in Lawrence, catching the drifting logs that escaped from the Lowell boom, and turning them into lumber down there. One winter nearly 1,000,000 logs went over the Pawtucket dam and went on down the river, but were easily captured.

Mr. Norcross once learned the game of "riding logs," traveling miles a day on one log without rolling off once and always keeping away from jams and tip-overs. He knew men who lost their lives at the game, but he was always pretty lucky, he said.

The Last River Run
The A. L. Brooks Co., always big Lowell lumber cutters and "floaters," were the last to make the "river runs." The last big float that came swirling down the spring waters of the Merrimack contained more than 2,000,000 feet of logs. It took many men to superintend the long run from far up the Merrimack down to Lowell.

Lowell men still active and in good health, and well known about the lumber district, figured extensively in the log drives, and can tell interesting stories of experiences while riding the logs armed with cant hooks or pikes. Stories of a sudden ride over tumbling falls, buried under avalanches of tumbling logs and swimming clear through open spaces where the logs banked together and forming miniature dams of protection—miraculous escapes from almost certain death while "coasting" down the rushing waters on the masses of rolling spruces and pines—these were exciting times, and it took men of nerve and hardy strength and gameness to fight the river battles and come out on top every time.

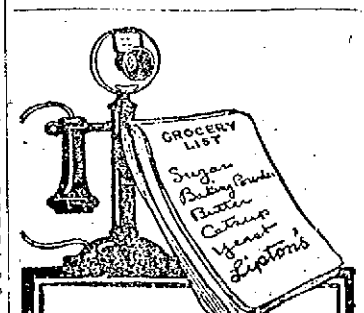

Not much is left of the old-time boom that used to swing in the waters above Pawtucket falls to catch the down-coming logs. Pieces of the "old original" are treasured here and there, in lumber offices and homes. The boom that most of the veterans remember well was three feet wide and about 12 inches deep, and was stoutly fastened to catch the logs as they came down and found a resting place in the basin above the dam.

The days of the famous old May Queen, river steamer of song and story in the old days, are no more. But Capt. Prouty's voice is remembered as he used to shout: "Clear away!"

Veterans say the old May Queen seems to wander up and down the river on quiet nights when the fog hangs low over the waters and the moon hides beneath straying clouds. But if the ghost of the old river patrol saunters down this way, modern folk have yet to catch a glimpse of it though its eerie journeys may fit in well with some of the other river stories one hears while sauntering idly through the shore lumber yards and the quiet old-time chalets that used to harbor some of the river men and their cronies of the spring "floats."

First bricks in America were made by the Virginia colonists in 1611.

Peter's Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y. Dear Sirs: I was afflicted with what the doctors said were Varicose Ulcers, and up until about five weeks ago I have been treating them for about a year and five months. With all the treatments that were prescribed to me by several doctors, I received little benefit, and they kept spreading and gave me much distress and caused me to quit my work. I was induced by a brother, brother-in-law to try Peter's Ointment, and after I had used two boxes I saw wonderful results. You can tell suffering ones by their white, swollen and hard ulcers that your ointment is a cure for them when everything else fails, as I have tried about everything. Thanking you many times over I am, your happy friend, Chas. J. Heyser, Baltimore, Md., 42 Glenwood avenue, July 12, 1916.

SEC. MELLON APPROVES PROHIBITION NAVY

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Formation of a prohibition "navy" for combating rum smuggling along the Florida coast has the approval of Secretary Mellon. It was stated yesterday at the treasury. Officials declared that the use of Coast Guard chasers by the prohibition authorities should have a marked effect on the operations of liquor runners in southern waters.

Mobilization of the prohibition fleet is progressing rapidly.

A Coast Guard officer has been made liaison official between the Coast Guard Service and prohibition headquarters for perfecting the plans for the use of subchasers. Details of the plans, however, officials said, are being kept secret to avoid information reaching the ears of rum runners.

American plans originated the same of liquor.

BAVARIANS REFUSE TO TAKE OATH

BERLIN, March 10.—Public officials in some of the federated German states have refused to take the oath of allegiance to the republican constitution on the ground they owed allegiance only to their own state.

The point of law evoked lively discussion, particularly in Bavaria, where is not very deeply grounded. Legal suits were brought in two cases for reinstatement of the officials whose offices had been declared vacant on account of their non-constitutional attitude.

One court ruled the oath was unnecessary but a higher court reversed the decision.

LINDSAY'S WIFE DID ALL HER OWN WORK

NEW YORK, March 10.—Mrs. Alfred E. Lindsay, wife of the bankrupt "Doin' Club" broker who is accused of fleeing New York society women, out on nearly $100,000 bond, said yesterday that she did her own washing, ironing and mending, as well as her husband's.

"For the past three years I have done my own work, including washing, ironing and scrubbing," Mrs. Lindsay said. "I've lived very quietly and never spent much money, nor did we entertain lavishly. I only bought one dress last year."

Dr. W. Arvid Enlund, indicted with Lindsay for grand larceny, lived in the Lindsay home for nearly eight years. Mrs. Lindsay said she never met any of the society women Lindsay and Dr. Enlund knew and are accused of robbing.

Mr. Murphy declined to discuss his talk with Lindsay further than to say she had convinced him she had nothing to do with Lindsay's alleged crimes.

Henry Goldstein, her counsel, told of her interview with Mr. Murphy.

"Mrs. Lindsay still has implicit faith in her husband," he said, "and if given the opportunity to make good he will do so. The whole affair is a great shock to her, and at present she is in a condition amounting to a physical breakdown."

She told Mr. Murphy that she now is absolutely delirious that she has any money, jewelry or furs. What little she had, she gave to Mr. Lindsay years ago and the proceeds were used for living expenses.

"Her friends have generously rallied to her assistance and offered her a home as long as she desires."

"She was very much surprised when informed that a lady she knew had given money to Mr. Lindsay, and felt keenly aggrieved when she realized that this friend had been imposed upon. When I assured her that most of this money had been repaid, she seemed better satisfied."

Mrs. Lindsay has turned over to Mr. Murphy the keys to the pretentious home Lindsay maintained at South Nyack, so that he may make a search for valuables, Mr. Goldstein added. She already had agreed to have the house sold to help make good money lost by women through Lindsay's operations.

LUXURIOUS BATHS FOR PET DOGS

PARIS, March 10.—No longer will those pampered pets of Parisian women—the Pomeranians and the Pekingese—be left to the unsanitary care of the maid for their weekly baths.

Elaborate baths, constructed and equipped exclusively for the ablutions of pet dogs of wealthy Parisians have just been opened in the exclusive Salut Honore quarter of Paris.

A fashionable dog's life is a veritable path of roses, if the word of attendants at the canine bathing establishment may be accepted as true.

ATTENDANTS SAY HE RIDES IN A LUXURIOUS MOTOR CAR TO THE BATHS WHERE HE HAS A PRIVATE BATHING COMPARTMENT.

After the bath experienced masseurs pay their respects to his canine highness while a manicurist shapes his aristocratic claws. When the veterinary determines that his health is all that his owner could desire, he re-enters the motorcar with his mistress and returns home to a dainty meal of porterhouse steak.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wreth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses Wreth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous—Adv.

JEWES WILL LAUNCH LIFE SAVING EXPEDITION

When the Jews of Massachusetts embark on their life saving expedition next March 26, what promises to be the greatest campaign for the greatest cause in all the history of Massachusetts Jewish communities, will be launched with news of success from many cities in the state.

Enthusiastic and inspired workers are ready to take the field March 26 and are determined not to waste one minute of the ten days in which Massachusetts quota of $1,150,000 must be subscribed for the relief of the hundreds of thousands of Jewish war orphans and millions of Jewish war refugees in the war-torn countries of Eastern Europe.

In Gloucester, the entire quota of the city was pledged by the team workers themselves at their first meeting and within a week preliminary pledges had brought the amount to nearly double the first figure. Joseph Kerr, chairman of the Gloucester drive, and his associates, are determined to write a new page in the annals of generosity and are after a 200 per cent. over subscription.

Haverhill, Mass., which will begin its work March 19 with a monster mass meeting, has already a large part of its quota on hand, and from Springfield field, Worcester, Lynn, Salem, Haverhill and many other places, news of advance subscriptions nearly of approximately approaching the city quotas were received yesterday at war relief headquarters, 47 Mt. Vernon street, Boston, by Chairman Louis E. Kirshen.

No previous campaign has stirred the hearts of Massachusetts Jews as the present relief drive. No previous campaign has had a greater purpose than this present relief drive. No previous campaign will resolve a greater response than the present relief drive. B. S. Pousner is chairman of the Lowell committee, Moses Marks, treasurer, and Wm. Cantor secretary.

Speaks Highly of This Home Made Cough Remedy

Says It Acts With Unusual Speed—Loosens the Mucus—Relieves the Irritation and Stops the Cough

Costs Next to Nothing—for a Big Supply

Whenever anyone in my family catches cold and begins to cough and sneeze, and hawke and breathe heavy, it doesn't take me many minutes to fix up a remedy that will drive away all such troubles in double quick time. It's no secret—anyone can make a half pint of the finest cough medicine in the world for a trifling sum. Get from any druggist one ounce of Peppermint (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one-half pint—that's all there is to it.

But now you've got a real medicine—mind you—the first spoonful you take acts directly on the membrane of the throat and nose, the tickling comes almost instantly—the inflammation begins to disappear—up comes the stubborn mucus and often in 24 hours every trace of the cough that frightened you is gone.

It's really remarkable how this home made remedy acts on the mucous membrane and that is one reason it is so helpful to thousands of Catarrh sufferers—Adv.

HOPE OF AVERTING COAL STRIKE VANISHES

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 10.—Hope of a nation-wide coal strike being averted by the government's appeal for the operators and miners' meeting in a wage conference, seemed to have vanished today among officials of the United Mine Workers of America on account of the refusal of some operators to meet with the miners to negotiate an interstate wage agreement.

Union officials, however, refrained from any announcement on their future plans, but it was indicated that the policy committee might be called into session before April 1 to deal with all questions relating to the prospective strike.

LONDON, March 10.—The American steamer West Albatross, ashore off Iceland, is half full of water and likely to break in two at any moment, says a dispatch from Amsterdam.

A Lloyd's despatch from Hamburg dated Thursday, says the cargo of the relief ship which was carrying corn to Russia was being jettisoned and that part of the crew was still aboard.

U. S. HOLD 44 CARAT GEM

Princess Fatima Charged With Smuggling — Now Living on Charity

NEW YORK, March 10.—The 44-carat diamond, which only eight months ago blazed the way for Princess Fatima, sultana of Kabul, into the presence of President Harding, may delay her departure for Afghanistan, which was to have taken place today.

Charging that the fabulous stone was smuggled into this country when the princess arrived last July, officials of the United States customs department yesterday sought to gain possession of it. But Sheriff Percy Nagel, who has held the diamond for several months as security for numerous creditors, refused to give it up.

After hearing arguments of counsel for one sheriff and customs department, Supreme Court Justice Lehman advised the latter to obtain a federal order directing that the stone be turned over to them. The agents announced they would proceed at once to do so. Princess Fatima, whose head-diamond nostrils and dazzling wardrobe amazed Broadway when she arrived in this country last July, did not express any considerable interest when she learned of the charges that she evaded duty on her jewels. She continued packing her baggage, offering to sell for her native land as the "treasure" of the British government—a priceless and dislodged woman—an object of charity.

Her three sons will accompany her on one of the tramp freighters sailing for Bombay. From there they will travel overland, probably to Afghanistan, where they will resume the simple life again in an attempt to live down the ignominy of their expeditions in America.

The princess will wear her nose jewel back to Afghanistan, but the big diamond will remain in a safe deposit here to await settlement of the demands of her creditors and customs officials. Her other jewels, her wardrobe of gaily silks and her staff of servants also will be left in America. She will travel third class, a charity passenger—just a shabbily dressed old woman with three grown sons.

But in Afghanistan she still will be the Princess Fatima, sultana of Kabul.

SEALING FLEET OFF FOR ICEFIELDS

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., March 10.—The sealing fleet of nine ships has sailed for the icefields. The ships are Terra Nova, Marie, Ranger, Viking, Neptune, Thetis, Diana, Sea and Sagona. They carry about 1500 men.

When the ships get among the ice floes carrying seals the men leave them, surround a herd, and proceed to club them to death. The dead bodies are then dragged to the ships over the ice.

EX-POLICE CHIEF SLASHED IN JAIL

WORCESTER, March 10.—Patrick J. Canty, ex-chief of police in Webster, who is serving a sentence in the Worcester house of correction for accepting a bribe from a bootlegger, is recovering in the institution from a slashing he suffered last week at the hands of another prisoner.

The news leaked out yesterday and with it came a story that Canty and some of the other prisoners have been enjoying special privileges because Canty's injuries were suffered in a scrap following a card game.

None of the officials at the jail would discuss the case yesterday, and Sheriff Richardson was out of town.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and our food is rich. Our blood is filled with acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues of the body and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist a four ounce box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Take a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cannot injure, makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

SALVATION ARMY WILL CLOSE SOUP KITCHEN

The Salvation Army's soup kitchen will close the end of this month. Today kettles were put out to obtain funds with which to carry on the work for the remainder of the month. Tomorrow the kettles will be put out for the last time. The announcement of the closing will come as a hard blow to the many who have availed themselves of the opportunity of a bowl of steaming hot soup at sometime during the day.

The reason for the closing, as given out by Adjutant Mark Arnold today, is two-fold. The soup kitchen has been conducted at a great loss, with no help in sight and the fact that the spring is coming on will give men a chance to get work in the country.

Adjutant Arnold said this morning that he was sorry that such a step was necessary, especially considering the fact that the numbers to apply each day were increasing.

For the past three months the army has been giving out soup at its headquarters in Ampleton street. Thousands of gallons of meaty soup have been given away. Some have come to the kitchen in person, others have sent requests for it, while still others have had it brought to them.

The quality of the soup has been considered excellent by the army. A prominent business man called at the headquarters during the noon hour and asked to be conducted around the establishment. He was held over during the noon hour and given a chance to see the actual functioning of the soup kitchen. After the lunch was over he sampled and inspected the soup. He declared it to be of very fine quality and containing a great deal of nourishment.

The army officials hope the responses to the kettles today and tomorrow will be generous enough to enable them to carry on the work for the remainder of the month.

REASSEMBLE THE ILL-FATED ROMA

NORFOLK, Va., March 10.—The giant semi-rigid airship Roma, destroyed at the Army Supply Base more than two weeks ago with loss of 34 lives and injury to many more, is being reassembled at the base. Enlisted men from Langley Field began the work yesterday and as fast as sections are placed together photographs are being taken.

When the task is completed a photograph showing the blimp as she was when she started from Langley Field on her final voyage, with the exception of the fabric covering, will be sent to Washington.

The steel ribs of the Roma that were bent and twisted by the explosion that wrecked the ship have been straightened out as far as possible and are being replaced by experts practically as they were before the disaster. The work is being done under the direction of Lieut. Berl, who was piloting the ship at the time she took the fatal nose dive.

200,000 STARVING IN RUSSIAN PRISONS

MOSCOW, March 10.—(The Associated Press.)—To prevent the death by starvation and disease of 200,000 or so men and women in the various prisons and concentration camps of Russia, collections are being taken in the churches by the priests and about the streets by ex-prisoners or by friends and relatives of prisoners.

Despite the amnesty proclamation of the soviet government in November last, the prisons and camps continue crowded with men and women political prisoners whose only crime appears to have been that they once were rich or that they felt about old enemies who used their communistic influence to avenge private grievances.

Conditions have been going from bad to worse since the famine until now prison means to be practically without food, clothes, heat or medicine. The organization known as the Russian political Red Cross has had its meagre supplies and funds cut off, along with schools, hospitals and other institutions.

The people in the famine region are in a parallel compared to those who are denied their liberty and all means of obtaining food.

In the camps of Novosibirsk and Polotsky, near Moscow, to the certain knowledge of the Associated Press correspondent, the prisoners are reduced to eating bits of refuse, like hungry animals. The best that is served them is grout, but water called soup and pieces of black bread. The prison guards haven't much more to eat.

Some women political prisoners have been released, but the correspondent has information that aged and infirm prisoners, mothers and daughters and wives, are still detained in overcrowded, lice-infested cells or rooms with but one piece of clothing to cover them and without soap to wash themselves.

Once such people as these get into prison they stay there almost automatically because they are of no apolitical importance in present-day soviet Russia.

The Cheka (secret police) authorities have just offered to send 400 real political prisoners—social revolutionists or Mensheviks—to some small town.

they may select at least 150 inmates from a railway if they will promise to remain there. They are now locked up in the Butyrsky prison at Moscow and thus far have refused the offer. Nevertheless a dozen or so of these prisoners have been released.

Mensheviks were arrested by the hundreds in every political center of Russia and are still in various prisons.

Other political prisoners are anarchists, the cadres of Professor Milukoff, former Russian foreign minister, officers and relatives from the various "white" and volunteer movements of the old imperialist sets including men from the Denikin and Wrangel armies.

In addition, there have been scattered through north and central Russian prisons and camps men connected with the efforts to establish independent republics in Georgia, Azerbaijan, the Kuban and other sections of south Russia and the Caucasus, including Turkestan.

M. Unsichtschik, the new chief of the Cheka, has refused to give American correspondents information on the prisons and the causes of the arrests. A year ago the Cheka issued a report which was suppressed on issue.

STRIKE "WAR" OF ATTRITION

Test of Strength is Promised by Each of Two Parties to Controversy

Union Leader Says, "Mill Owners Licked" — Mill Men Optimistic

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 10 (By the Associated Press).—The Rhode Island textile strike, now in its seventh week, has developed into a "war of attrition," according to statements made today by representatives of both manufacturers and workers. Present attempts at arbitration of the strike difficulties ended this week when mill owners and strikers refused to accept a compromise, and a test of strength is promised by each of the two parties to the controversy. "We will fight it out on these lines if it takes all summer," said William H. Derrick, of the Amalgamated Textile Workers, head of the strike organization in the Pawtucket valley, where more than 5000 operatives are idle. In borrowing the tactics of "Ten Cent Drift," Derrick announced his objective to be a 45-hour week, no reduction in wages and no discrimination against strikers returning to work. "Just as fast as the employees demonstrate that they want to go back or any considerable number of them the mills will be opened and they will be given employment," said Edward P. Walker, secretary of the Rhode Island Textile association. The manufacturer proposed a 20 per cent wage reduction and a 44-hour week. "Have Mill Owners Licked?" Derrick claimed that the Pawtucket valley strikers could continue indefinitely without work. Seven soup kitchens in as many mill villages feed thousands of strikers daily. Contributions are coming in steadily from the outside, he said. The strikers, continuing to dwell in cottages owned by the mills, have roofs over their heads. Strike headquarters in Attleboro have been leased for a year. "If the mill owners evict our workers they will have to drive out about 30,000 people, counting five to a family," he declared. "Anyway, the weather is getting warmer, and they can live in tents. Our organization is brand new, dating back to the time the strike began, but our workers are a unit. We have the mill owners licked right now." Representatives of the mill owners responded that the expenses of the free soup kitchens were three times the income of the strike fund daily, that hangers-on were being fed while legitimate workers in many cases were not, and that only a small group desired to enter on a fight to the finish with the mills. Many, they said, would go to work again but were afraid of the "bludgeons and the black-list."

Says Reopening a Failure
Derrick declared today that the reopening of mills closed by the strike had proved a failure. He asserted that in no instance had enough hands been obtained to make operation worth while. Mill owners, on the other hand, reported steady gains in the plants that have reopened.

In a list of 16 mills, Secretary Walker said that 30 have been completely closed at one time or another by the strike and that others partially closed. Of the 30 once closed, he declared that 12 were now in operation.

creation in some departments running all the way from 25 per cent capacity to full capacity in view of the orders at hand. Plants listed by Secretary Walker as having reopened after complete shutdown were: Interlaken Finishing plant, Attleboro, 50 per cent; Imperial Printing & Finishing Co., Pawtucket, more than 50 per cent; Hope Co., Pawtucket, 30 per cent; Crown Manufacturing Co., Pawtucket, 25 per cent; Home Bleach & Dye works, Attleboro, Mass., 30 per cent; Royal Weaving Co., Pawtucket, 50 per cent; Slater Yarn Co., Pawtucket, 40 per cent; United States Finishing Co., Pawtucket, 100 per cent; B. B. & R. Knight, Inc., North Attleboro, 100 per cent; Queen Dyeing Co., Providence, 100 per cent; United States Finishing Co., Silver Spring branch, 10 per cent; Weaver's sock mill, 100 per cent. Those in this list, compromised with its workers last Saturday, granting the 45-hour week and wages were cut 6 to 10 per cent.

None Return to Work
PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 10.—The finishing department of the Crompton Co. velvet and corduroy mill at Crompton in the Pawtucket valley opened this morning after having been closed with the rest of the plant for almost seven weeks. National guard cavalry and coast artillerymen as well as deputy sheriffs and police, were on hand to provide protection for the workers who wanted to go in. John A. Swanson, superintendent of the mill, said that not a single employee reported for work. He said, however, that the department would be kept open in case any did decide to come in later.

SOLICITOR SAYS ORDINANCE IS LEGAL

City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney said today that it is his opinion the city ordinance providing for an appropriation for the water department of $17,640 for hydrant and park department service is legal and unless it is repealed, the water department will receive the money.

Both the budget and audit commission and the mayor cut out the item from the water department estimates. The mayor later giving out the statement that in his opinion the ordinance is not legal.

The ordinance was passed by the municipal council of last year in July and provides for a blanket charge of $3000 to the water department and a charge for hydrant service of $10 per hydrant.

While Solicitor Tierney believes that the ordinance is legal, although he says he has not studied it, he questions whether or not it is the best method of securing the money.

Both he and the mayor incline to the belief that the water used in this way should be metered and bills rendered for the same sometime during the year. This would mean that the park and fire departments would have to pay the bills.

UNGER HELD IN $50,000

Admits Stealing $190,000—Took Money to Make Mother Happy

PHILADELPHIA, March 10.—Walter A. Unger, charged with the larceny of securities of Commerce National Institute of the University of Pennsylvania valued at "more than $100,000," and the embezzlement of $12,000 of the institute's funds, was arrested last night in a rooming house at 5th and Brown streets. He had $10,000 in cash in his pockets, according to the detectives.

Unger, who had been missing nine days, was taken into custody by city detectives on information furnished by a resident of the neighborhood of the rooming house.

NATE TUFTS' AUTO STOLEN

BOSTON, March 10.—Former District Attorney Nathan A. Tufts of Middlesex county lost his automobile yesterday afternoon when he left it standing at the corner of Broad and State streets. The detective who apprehended it made a clean getaway and the police had found not a trace of it up until an early hour this morning.

Police smiled when warnings to be on the watch for it were given them, for many of them recalled that during the trial of the Winchester man it was alleged that he had failed to prosecute "a ring of automobile thieves."

of the river in the neighborhood of the Gage lockhouse, extends as far as the eye can reach right down to the dam capstones. Gate Keeper Walter Courtney this morning pointed out to a Sun man the figures "1852" chiseled in a large granite stone near the waterway running under the gate house this side of the Pawtucket bridge. The figures were put there by a former agent of the Locks and Canals Co. J. B. Francis, as marking the real "high spot" for a Merrimack river freshet rise. The figures in 1852 were 13 feet and four inches.

In 1886, during the last big freshet, the water climbed up toward the 1852 cap stone, reaching 13 feet and two inches.

Early yesterday morning the figures at the Locks and Canals showed that approximately 13,000 cubic feet of water was going over the dam. In the afternoon the figures reached considerably more than that amount.

Spectators gathered today on the bridge to see the tumbling waters over the falls, noticed dozens of large sea fairs that have been flying low over the waters just above the dam for several days past. Some of them float in the open water about 200 yards above the dam close to the ice house; others drop onto the ice and rest there for minutes at a time, while still more swoop down over the edge of the dam and in the tumbling white waters below the falls, watching for an food.

POLICE MAKE RAID IN FAYETTE STREET

Federal and local police raided a near-beer saloon in Fayette street last night, after claiming to have purchased a pint of liquor, and found what they claim to be strong evidence of illegal liquor traffic. A warrant has been issued in the case and it is expected that an arrest will be made some time today.

The officers claim they bumped into another clever method devised for the purpose of fooling the police. A dipper, to which a 50 foot wire was attached, was found running along the rear of the bar. The police contend that this scheme was so arranged that a slight tug on the wire would cause the dipper to drop into a drain and over-tune so that its contents would be removed.

There was no "wire-pulling" when the officers arrived because they made no attempt to "jump" the place. A member of the force was sent to the place in advance to make a purchase. The police claim he was successful and returned with a pint of liquor. An investigation of the purchase was made by Agent Winn, Officer Miano and Federal Prohibition Enforcement Agents Sheldon and Powers.

Marie's Lunch opens tomorrow.

The C.Y.M.L. and Y.M.C.A. will renew their series at the Crescent rink tonight, when the second game will be played.

The opening battle of this A.L. Lowell series, played a week ago, was not decided until the last few minutes of play and then only when one of the Lowell players committed a third foul. This one point represented the margin between victory and defeat.

With the advantage of having won the first game, the Y.M.C.A. players are confident of making it two in a row. They have their confidence on the fact that the first victory was accomplished without the services of Jimmy Keenan, who is expected to be in the lineup tonight.

The C.Y.M.L. team, however, has been beaten before only once, back in the early days, and the players, under the direction of Manager Malloy, have put in a busy week in preparation for the game and will enter the contest determined to even the count.

The winner of the amateur championship series, Lowell, will play the St. Patrick's team in the first game of the season. Twenty-Seven Safe Drives Caused Bill Dinneen To Decide He Was Destined To Be a Great Arbitrator

BY BILLY EVANS
"How did you ever happen to be an umpire?"
That is a question that is often asked after a tough ball game. At such times it is hard for a sane individual to figure out why anyone is in love with the job, as they say, "It's all other positions the pay check carries the real thrill. It causes you to get more hardened in mind of the indignities which come your way."

I don't believe any youngster ever had as his ambition the desire to become a major league umpire. Some critics say umpires are born, not made. However, there is always a reason for everything, and back of the career of every major league umpire is an unusual story.

I always smile when I hear Bill Dinneen tell why he started umpiring. According to "Bill," he was formerly given to "biting" his fellow players. A local league ball club convinced him that it ought to be an umpiring "bit" was given. "I started poorly in the game," he says. "My arm didn't seem to have the strength to put an "zip" on the ball."

ONE MAN COACH PLAN IS ABANDONED
The attempt made at the recent meeting of the school committee to appoint and coach for the athletics at the high school, which would do away with the four-man coaching system now in use, has been given up according to unofficial information. At the Tuesday night session of the board, George J. Sullivan, a committeeman, made an attempt to have Joseph Duffy appointed as a permanent coach and one who would assist Donald MacIntyre, supervisor of athletics in the public schools.
The matter was laid on the table with the understanding that it would be taken up with Principal Henry H. Harris and James Conway of the high school faculty. At the meeting Principal Harris was in favor of the one-man plan. Since that time certain things have come and now it is said that those who advocated so strongly the one-man idea are not so strong for it.

At the present time the four major sports at the high school are football, basketball, track and baseball. These teams are coached by Eddie Cawley, Attorney Joseph J. MacIntyre, George J. Sullivan and Donald MacIntyre respectively. The new plan would do away with all four and give the reins to one man, who would coach all of the athletes. Mr. MacIntyre would be retained in his present capacity.
The reason for the change of mind is said to be due to the fact that no one man could be obtained for the department who would be able to pay that would be profitable enough to handle all sports. Unless a man possessed unusual ability, he would naturally be weak in coaching one sport at least and possibly more. The four-man coaching system gives the schoolboys an opportunity to work under four specialists. Of course, there are men capable of handling all sports; for instance, a man like Hucio Hucio, who coached Penn State athletes in many sports. But the men of this caliber are scarce and more so unless the salary figures are well up into the thousands.

Mr. Duffy's friends think he would be capable of handling the proposed position. Duffy was a good athlete while in school, college and in professional baseball, and he would turn out probably some fine boys. The question would be as to how much success he would have with the other sports, particularly football, a sport dear to the hearts of the students. The question would be as to how much success he would have with the other sports, particularly football, a sport dear to the hearts of the students.

Sometimes an umpire is forced to resort to drastic measures to silence a protesting athlete.

George Moriarty, American league umpire, was up against such a situation one day last summer.

A certain American league pitcher who throws nothing but strikes, if you would take his word for it, was doing the pitching.

Ordinarily said pitcher is a mighty hard man to hit. This particular occasion was one of his few off days. He was wild, and when he did manage to get one over the batter would take all kinds of liberties with it.

At such times it is always the cue for the pitcher to alibi himself at the expense of the umpire.

Moriarty, who was umpiring balls and strikes, was displeasing the pitcher most of the afternoon.

The pitcher managed to win his game despite the fact that the opposing team made eight runs.

In the eighth inning, after Moriarty had failed to call a certain batter out on strikes, the pitcher let the world know that he thought the umpiring was sour.

"That is 14 you have missed on me," he yelled.

"How many?" asked Moriarty in a voice equally loud.

"Fourteen," replied the pitcher. "Then in a voice that carried all over the park, Moriarty replied:

"Someone must have told you to say that, you can't count that far."

the team there two seasons and went south to play professional baseball.

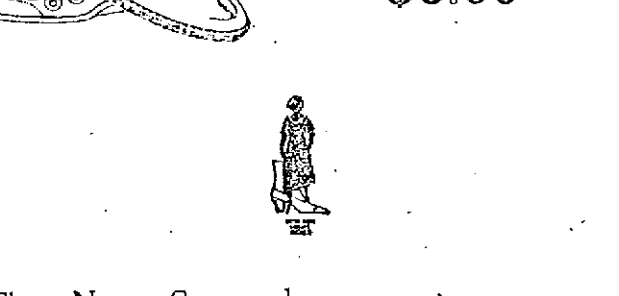

Another person whose name has been mentioned as a strong candidate for the position, if one is created, is Jimmy Liston, one of the greatest all-around athletes ever to wear the local high school colors, and at present a student and superb athlete at Boston college. Liston will be graduated from the Boston institution in June and would be able to accept the position if it were offered to him.

He made a wonderful record in athletics while a student at the local high school. He was known as the "man" that he won 12 letters during his four-year course. He "made" his letter in track, baseball and football in each sport in all four years, leaving the high school, Liston went to Lehigh university where he played both baseball and football under the supervision of Tom Keady, then coach of the Lehigh athletic teams but now director of athletics in the University of Vermont. Liston joined the service during the war and transferred to Boston college where he has made a great reputation both for himself and Lowell high school.

There appears to be no immediate rush to appoint a one-man coach in the only sport remaining before the completion of the school year is baseball. It is understood that Attorney Donahue will coach the team again this year. The matter may be threshed out during the summer but according to the way the wind is blowing at the present time, no change from the old system will be made for a while at least.

BIG DRINK BILL BUT SEEK AID FROM U. S.

VIENNA, March 10.—Austria's enormous drink bill has aroused renewed agitation in certain quarters for some form of at least modified prohibition. An official statement says it amounted last year to 213,000,000,000 kronen (about $5,220,000,000).

This is three times greater than the national coal bill and about equal to the total currency circulation.

ANOTHER LIFE SAVED

Fourteen-Year-Old Girl Saved From Consumption at the Critical Age When So Many Girls Go Into a Decline—This Girl Was Restored to Robust Health by Allen's Lung Healer

MRS. JACKSON'S LETTER

Mr. H. J. Allen:—Your Lung Healer has restored my 14-year-old niece to perfect health from the verge of consumption. She had a severe cough all last winter, which, in spite of all we could do for her, seemed to take a stronger hold. She began to fade and lose her appetite and strength and to grow thin and pale. Every breath of cold air caused severe coughing. Her lungs became sore and pained her a great deal, and she coughed up great lumps of phlegm. We sent her to the country for the summer, but she seemed no better this fall. As her father died of consumption, we believed she was in the grip of the dread disease. Hearing of the wonderful work of Allen's Lung Healer, we decided to give it a trial. The results were almost miraculous, as the cough was almost gone after using one bottle and after the second bottle she was entirely cured. She is now perfectly well and strong, has regained her lost flesh, eats heartily and can go out in the coldest weather without feeling any bad effects of catching cold. All this is due to your grand remedy which should be called "The Great Life Saver."

MRS. CLARA JACKSON,
197 Wyman St., West Lynn.

This letter was written 12 years ago, and this girl is now the strongest healthy mother of several beautiful children.

Imports of alcoholic beverages exceeded exports by about 35,000,000,000 kronen.

Its most ardent advocates, however, acknowledge that prohibition is virtually an impossibility in this country, at least for many years. Beer and wine form part of the sustenance of the people from youth up and no political party dares make it a plank in its platform or openly advocate it.

Two years ago when the social democrats were in power their leaders discussed the wisdom of such a step but after a careful investigation realized it could not be done and the party survive. They did, however, authorize a quiet campaign against excessive drinking, as well as to prepare the youth of the country for a possible future effort for prohibition.

In many other ways not only the social democrats but many leading men of all parties have stressed the need of sobriety in a people who face such a struggle as do the Austrians.

President Hainisch, himself a teetotaler, frequently makes temperance the note of his public addresses. He also has remarked to a delegation that the slight of a nation so hard-drinking as this asking prohibition America for aid was hardly a pleasant one.

The Arbeiter Zeitung, the workingmen's paper, in an editorial last week said: "If impoverished Austria could summon half the moral energy the United States displayed in the suppression of drink she would soon have no need to go begging of all the world."

The new taxation schedules first put into effect in Austria taxed beer 300 per cent, on wine 250 per cent, and on spirits 1,000 per cent.

It is generally conceded that any step toward prohibition must have the endorsement of all parties as no party alone could survive such an issue with the powerful opposition of the great body of the people from working men to peasant.

One step has been accomplished at last by the removal from some of the largest industrial plants of the cantons where the men could get beer and wine at any hour.

"INTERN" CRIMINALS UNTIL CURED

STOCKHOLM, March 10.—Habitual criminals in Sweden would be

"interned" until they are cured of their criminal tendencies under a plan recommended by a special government committee.

The committee has been making an extensive study of the best means of protecting society from such undesirable as well as from degenerates, mentally diseased, epileptics and moral offenders.

NEW BEDFORD, March 10.—Postal clerks engaged in the delivery of parcels and packages will leave their motors running while delivering their packages, is the order of Postmaster George L. Oliver.

Postal employees, or anyone else, who leave their machines unattended, will be subjected to arrest, is the order of Police Chief Edward P. Doherty.

The conflict of federal and civil regulations has already been taken up by the Washington authorities, and meantime William C. H. Smith, a postal clerk, has appealed a $10 fine imposed in the district court after he had been summoned to court for violation of the city ordinance.

Machines operated by the local postal employees are not equipped with self starters, and Postmaster Oliver ordered the men to leave their motors running when they went into a house to deliver a package. Smith's appearance in court followed.

Asked yesterday if the arraignment of one of the clerks would tend to change the ruling, Postmaster Oliver said the order still stood. He declared there is nothing for the parcel post men to do but leave their motors running. "Either that or resign," remarked the postmaster.

"They will be subjected to arrest," remarked Chief Doherty.

CALLS TREATY AN "ALLIANCE"

Sen. Robinson Denounces Four Power Pacific Pact in Senate

Would Invite Rival Alliances and Lead to Great Harm

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Pronouncing the four-power Pacific treaty an "alliance," Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, in renewing senate discussion of the pact today, declared it would not promote peace,
"but on the contrary will invite the formation of rival alliances and lead to great harm."

Amendments were advocated by the Arkansas senator to pledge the signatories specifically against aggression and to provide that in any future Pacific controversy all the nations affected, whether signatories or not, shall be invited to join the resulting conference.

The former qualification would be necessary to effect any change in the present Japanese policies, he said, while the latter would so broaden the treaty as to protect the interests of Russia and other nations which in the future might again become powerful in the Pacific.

that he knew few of the details of the negotiations as he was absent from

R. I. CLERGYMEN ACT

Urge State Board to Continue Efforts to Bring Settlement of Strike

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 9.—In a message addressed to the state board of mediation and conciliation today the Episcopal clergy of Rhode Island urged the board to continue its efforts at bringing about a settlement of the textile strike in the state. The board yesterday announced that it had abandoned present efforts to bring mill owners and strikers together.

Bishop James DeWolf Perry, Jr., of the diocese of Rhode Island, transmitted to the state board today a resolution adopted by the Episcopal clergy of the state. It was as follows:

"Inasmuch as the conflict in the textile industries of Rhode Island, both in its origin and continuance, has indicated a lack of Christian conciliation at a time when mutual consideration was essential, we, the clergy of the Episcopal church in the diocese of Rhode Island express through Bishop Perry to the board of mediation our approval of its purpose and our hope that the board will continue its effort to bring about a conference between the representatives of the parties in conflict to the end that through such conference the principle of co-operation for the public good may be established, and that a settlement may be reached securing justice to all concerned."

FIND BABE IN BARREL

OF WASTE PAPER

BOSTON, March 9.—The cry of a child coming from a barrel of waste paper led to the discovery today that a woman had abandoned a small child of six weeks in the North station, elevated structure. The child was appar-
probably to keep it still, which was found nearby.

The discovery was made by Rev. A.
J. Plimont, a Cambridge clergyman.
A woman con-changer recalled seeing the woman, habited in arms, pass her station and described her as about 20 years of age and well dressed. The child was comfortably clothed, a shawl over its white garments.

on the soldier bonus bill was made in the house today by Representative

BLAMES MULCAHY FOR

LIMERICK SITUATION

LIMERICK, March 9.—(By the Associated Press).—A proclamation extensively posted in Limerick today asserted that Richard Mulcahy, minister of defence in the last British cabinet,
"by a breach of trust is alone responsible for the present Limerick situation."

The proclamation declares that Mr.
Mulcahy "voluntarily guaranteed that the Irish Republican Army as such intact until the election. He has not kept his word. He refuses to allow the Limerrick brigade of the Irish republican army to occupy vacated barracks in Limerick city because they would not take them over on behalf of the provisional government, but insisted upon maintaining their status as a part of the Irish republican army."

Declaring the "republican army still lives to prevent this insidious attempt to suppress the republic," the proclamation concludes:

"Do the citizens of Limerick understand that their local Irish republican army units are being placed in a false and humiliating light solely because they stand for a principle? Do the Irish republican army men employed by the provisional government to guard the barracks in the city at present know for what purpose they are being used? Will they, who fought and suffered for the republic, now take part in destroying it?"

HONOR MEMORY OF

DESIGNER OF MONITOR

NEW YORK, March 9.—Sixty years ago today the confederate ironclad Merrimac steamed away from her anchorage in Hampton Roads to attack what was expected to be a defenseless Union fleet. Instead she met the Monitor, later called the "Iron-clad Cheese Box on a Raft," and engaged in the first battle between ironclads, which changed the whole naval strategy of the world, and which has been described as the most momentous sea engagement ever fought.

Today the cities of New York and Stockholm, Sweden, united in doing honor to the memory of John Ericsson, who designed the Monitor. Tablets were to be unveiled in New York.

for Police Department Dis-

The budget and audit commission has held up a number of bills presented for approval, including one for $200 in the name of J. Joseph Hennessy, former city auditor, for services rendered "various city departments." Bills were presented by members of the city council for expenses caused by attendance at an annual meeting of the supreme court. As the amount of these expense bills varied from $2.36 to $10, approval will be withheld until an explanation of the difference is obtained.

One bill approved, but which caused considerable discussion, was for a withdrawal for the police department in the sum of $20. The members of the commission could not imagine what sleuthing work in the local department required any such elaborate disguise, but the item finally was

Textile Strike Severe Blow to Business—Strikers Have Lost $2,000,000

Gov. San Souci Ignores Protests of Manufacturers Against Picketing

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 10.—The state board of mediation and conciliation will meet Monday to consider a proposal to ask the legislature to amend the statute under which the board functions so that the body may have mandatory powers to conduct investigations and enforce its decisions. Announcement to this effect was made today by Commissioner of Labor George H. Webb.

When the board last week abandoned attempts to induce textile manufacturers and operatives to compromise their differences and so end the Rhode Island textile strike, it was announced that legislation extending the powers of the board would probably be sought.

Commissioner Webb in a statement made public today declared that the effect of the strike was being felt in a financial way by business interests all over Rhode Island.

Wages lost to textile strikers he estimated at nearly $2,000,000 since the strike began. The purpose of this estimate, he explained, is to show the number of strikers as 15,000 and the average weekly wage as $17.55. Both these figures he declared to be extremely conservative.

Spending had been restricted on the part of many other workers, due to the strike, Mr. Webb claimed, and other lines of business dependent on the textile mills had been slowed up.

The Glenison Yarn Dye Works at the Sayles Finishing plants, at East Providence, employing about 100, did not open this morning.

This is the first additional plant to be closed by the strikers in two weeks. Picketing has been carried on at that plant and the Glenison print works, another Sayles mill for several days. At the print works it was stated today that 35 out of 550 employees have quit work.

The Judiciary committee of the state senate announced today that it would hold a public hearing on Wednesday on 45 hour bills now pending. A week later a public hearing will be held on a bill to prohibit night work by women and children.

Governor San Souci in a statement today declared that textile manufacturers were picketing at plants affected by the strike may seek their remedy in the courts, not in the executive. Attorneys representing the manufacturers held a conference with the governor yesterday on this matter.

WILL ASK $2000 FOR CARE OF SOLDIERS' GRAVES

St. Curtis Garrity, commander of Lowell post, American Legion, will recommend to the city council tonight that at least $2000 be provided for the care of soldiers' graves this year. The mayor's recommendation for this work stands at $500, but inasmuch as a legion member requested more money and said that graves are badly needed of care whatever the amount, Commander Garrity said today that $1200 can be spent in St. Patrick's cemetery alone, where there are at least 100 graves that require practically no care whatever. He also said that two Civil war veterans are lying in pauper lots.

"Almost as much money as might be authorized could be spent to good advantage," said Commander Garrity, "but the legion will be satisfied if approximately $2000 is appropriated. The council meets as a committee on the whole to consider the budget at 7 o'clock and hopes to finish its discussions tonight. It is not probable that the budget will be passed tonight, for there will be several recommendations for increases that will have to be taken up in conference with the mayor."

IMPANEL JURY
IN 18 MINUTES

Trial of $100,000 Suit
Brought by Jos. E. Warner Against Lt. Gov. Fuller

Charges Defendant With Making Libellous Statement in 1920 Campaign

TAUNTON, March 10.—A jury was impaneled in 18 minutes before Judge Nelson F. Brown, in the superior court, to hear evidence in the $100,000 suit brought by former Speaker Joseph E. Warner of Taunton against Lieut. Governor Alvan T. Fuller, alleging libel. There were two challenges by Mr. Fuller's attorneys and one by Mr. Warner's. Chester N. Leonard of Taunton was designated by Judge Brown as foreman. Messrs. Warner and Fuller were both in court at the opening.

The opening address to the jury was made by John L. Hall of counsel for the plaintiff. Mr. Hall read the declaration, in which it was alleged that Mr. Fuller, in the campaign of 1920 for republican nomination for lieutenant governor, made statements in addresses and letters, that were libellous to Mr. Warner. One answer filed by Mr. Fuller was also read. It was a general denial of Mr. Warner's declaration, an assertion that, if the statements alleged were made, they were true; moreover, that if they were made, they were privileged, in that both men were at the time candidates for a public office.

The alleged utterances of which Mr. Warner complained were to the effect that Warner had profited financially by his office as speaker of the house, that he had shared in fees paid to him by a law partner for appearing before a legislative committee appointed by Mr. Warner.

Newspaper files were brought into the courtroom and the evidence later exhibited. Testimony will begin at once.

EARL OF DERBY OFFERED
INDIA SECRETARYSHIP

LONDON, March 10. (By the Associated Press.) (India).—The Earl of Derby, former secretary for war, has been offered the secretaryship for India, in succession to Edwin S. Montague, who resigned yesterday, according to reports in the parliamentary lobby today. In the event of Lord Derby's refusal, the Duke of Devonshire is considered the likely appointee.

LONDON, March 10.—(By the Associated Press.) Removal of Lord Reading as viceroy of India, it is believed in some quarters, will be the denouement to the publication of the Indian government's note. There is nothing tangible on what to base this belief, but it is not improbable as a sequel to the virtual dismissal of Edward S. Montague as secretary for India.

The probable effect in India of Montague's resignation, is the subject of much curiosity, as there are some misgivings as to the removal of the chairman of Indian political reform have a dangerous repercussion there.

RADIO 'PHONE
PUBLIC UTILITY

Recommendations by Three Committees of Government Radio Conference

Allocation of 20 Wave Lengths Among Various Classes of Senders Urged

Government Control of All Commercial Transmitting
Telephone Stations

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Allocation of 20 wave lengths among the various classes of wireless telephony senders and government control of all commercial wireless transmitting telephone stations are recommended by the three committees of the government radio conference made public today.

The recommendation does not provide for government control of receiving stations, which Secretary Hoover has said increased into the hundreds of thousands in the last few months. Amateur transmitting stations under the committee's proposals would be given extensive use of wave lengths from 150 to 200 metres and share with technical and training schools wave lengths of from 200 to 275 metres.

Other recommendations are that wave lengths below 6000 metres should be in general way, be reserved for "radio telephone service," but that those wave lengths which have become fixed in service for telegraph within this range, such as S.O.S. signals, shall be retained.

The committee's report expressed the hope and expectation that the radio telephone may ultimately keep the whole range from 200 to 6000 metres. The committee urge that time periods assigned to the different transmitting stations for the various services be placed under the control of the commerce department and also that the radio telephone be accorded the status of a public utility.

The recommendations have been transmitted to interested organizations and companies for consideration and the full conference will meet again in two or three weeks to formulate its final report.

The committee urge that the radio laws be amended to give the secretary of commerce "adequate legal authority for the effective control of the establishment of all radio transmitting stations except amateur, experimental and governmental stations" and the operation of non-governmental transmitting stations.

The present development of the art of wireless telephony, the committee find, warrants the separation of 20 wave bands. The committee recommend that priority first be given broadcasting service, and that broadcasting be divided into priorities in this rotation: Government, educational and public, private broadcasting, including experimental, news, etc., and finally toll broadcasting.

In addition to the wave lengths of 150 and 275 metres for the amateurs, additional wave lengths might be assigned to them for some opportunity in experimental work. The amateurs, however, should be encouraged to range among themselves as to the division of their wave bands between different varieties of amateur work.

The wave allocations follow:
Trans-oceanic radio telephone experiments, non-exclusive, 6000 to 5500 metres; fixed service radio telephony, non-exclusive, 3300 to 2850 metres; service, non-exclusive, 2550 to 2000 metres; government non-exclusive, 2050 to 1850 metres; fixed station, non-exclusive, 1650 to 1550 metres; aircraft radio telephony and telegraphy, exclusive, 1550 to 1600 metres; government and public broadcasting, 1550 to 1450 metres; radio telephony, non-exclusive, 1350 to 1250 metres; mobile radio telephony, exclusive, 750 to 650 metres; aircraft radio telephony and telegraph exclusive, 625 to 500 metres; private and toll broadcasting, exclusive, 435 to 310 metres; restricted amateur radio telephony, non-exclusive, 310 metres; city and state public safety broadcasting, exclusive, 285 to 275 metres; technical and training schools shared with amateurs, 275 to 200 metres; amateur, exclusive, 150 to 200 metres and shared with technical and training schools 200 to 275, and reserved below 150.

BRITISH TITLE

CHICAGO, March 10 (By the Associated Press).—Cyril Woodward Armstrong, self-made Chicago lawyer, whose struggle for a living has been only moderately successful, today learned that he was heir to an English earldom but the news had little effect on him, for he calmly informed newspaper reporters that he already possessed the greatest title in the world—that of an American citizen—and declined no other.

POLICE BAFFLED AS SHOWERS OF ROCKS
FALL FROM CLOUDS

CHICAGO, March 10.—Showers of rocks that fall "from the clouds" on a warehouse here have baffled the police, neighbors and various official and unofficial investigators.

Today the owner posted an offer of $200 to the person revealing the source of the rocks.

While the town marshal and a committee of newspapermen and others were examining the corrugated iron roof yesterday, a shower of large, smooth rocks fell, sending the investigators scurrying for cover.

Others standing on the street, declared the rocks seemed to come straight from the clouds.

Those employed in the building reported that the mysterious bombardments of the roof had begun occurring periodically for three weeks.

Reopening of Mill Big Surprise to Textile Union Leaders

About 300 Non-Union Operatives Reported to Have Returned to Work When the Hamilton Mills Reopened This Morning—No Public Announcement Made by Company—Operatives Notified in Person by Mill Messengers—Strikers Plan Big Reception for Samuel Compers

The doors of the Hamilton mills, which have been closed and all machinery halted since Saturday, February 11, were flung open this morning at 6.30 o'clock, for the resumption of several departments as the first step toward regular operations throughout the plant.

The news that the Hamilton plant was to resume operations spread like wildfire throughout the city. At 6.45 o'clock, there were several hundred men and women in Jackson street, filling the area and spur trackage near the Hamilton plant and flocking about the two large entrances.

In the surging crowd of excited operatives, both union and non-union, were many men with little slips of paper in their hands. They said they had been asked to report for work this morning, messengers being sent to their homes with special notifications.

A number of union operatives were not notified, according to textile union officials, who charge the Hamilton proprietors with "picking out" non-union workmen for the Friday opening.

Before 7 o'clock, more than 200 men and women operatives, the majority not affiliated with the local textile union, passed through the mill entrances. Most of them carried dinner pails, boxes of lunch or hand bags containing eatables and drinks. No one was disturbed on the passage through the excited crowds that filled sidewalks, ice-covered street and railway sidings.

Union Officials Present

Textile union officials were there, several members of the office force coming down from Trades & Labor headquarters where the news of the opening of the Hamilton gates reached them. They acted as a picket line until the mills closed their entrance doors.

The picketing by regularly appointed squads will be resumed this evening and hereafter until the wage question is settled, the textile union officials assert.

Reports from "counters" who watched the mill gates closely this morning, showed more than 250 employees returning to their jobs by the Jackson street entrance. Possibly 50 or more obtained entrance by the small passages way connecting the rear of the mill in the Market street territory. The 50, report had it, were anxious to avoid being seen entering the mills by the union pickets.

Many of the operatives at work this morning are employed in the dyeing and cloth departments, but other departments including the napping, carding and spinning departments were soon in operation, according to pickets acquainted with the men and women entering the mill gates before 7 o'clock.

TO BAR FLOATING BOOZE
PALACE OFF N. Y.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Prohibition Commissioner Haynes served notice today that there would be no "floating booze palace" just outside the three-mile limit off New York if he could prevent it.

The prohibition commissioner had a conference with Ralph A. Day, prohibition enforcement director of New York, who came to Washington to confer with him in regard to the proposed establishment of such a source of relief for thirsty New Yorkers. After the conference he dictated a letter to James V. Martin, of the "floating palace" corporation of New York, who Mr. Day had informed him, proposed to establish a "recreation vessel" outside New York harbor.

Commissioner Haynes in this letter noted first that the primary purpose of the "floating palace" would be the sale of liquor and then informed Mr. Martin that the prohibition office felt it could not do otherwise than oppose by all lawful means the operation of such a vessel with intoxicants served on board.

He followed up with the statement that if the bureau did not have sufficient authority under the present law he would immediately apply to congress for legislation to cover it.

The commissioner closed his letter as follows:

"This office vigorously protests against any such mercenary attempts to evade and violate the spirit of the law in this country and takes this occasion to go on record as intending to do everything which it lawfully can to frustrate such efforts."

SUITS AGAINST ALLEN ARE DISMISSED

BOSTON, March 10.—The full bench of the supreme court today dismissed four bills in equity brought against Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen to recover deposits made in the Prudential Trust Co. The claims were made on the ground that the bank, now closed, was insolvent when the deposits were made.

Chief Justice Rugg, who wrote the opinion, said that although the company at the time of the deposits was not meeting certain requirements of law, it was nevertheless "continuing to meet its obligations when they arose."

"It had been apparently in a somewhat shaky condition for several years," the opinion added, "and yet had been able to continue its business." Chief Justice Rugg asserted that the suits were in effect preferential claims against the other creditors of the institution.

"An equitable distribution appears more likely to work out justice," the opinion concluded.

U. S. Calls Upon Allies to Pay $241,000,000 in Connection With Occupation of Rhineland

PARIS, March 10.—(By the Associated Press).—A demand from the United States that $241,000,000 for its expenses in connection with the occupation of the Rhineland be paid before any reparations were paid was presented to the allied finance ministers at their meeting this morning.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—(By the Associated Press).—Secretary Hughes refused today to comment on the news from Paris that representatives of the United States had presented a demand to the allied finance ministers that expenditures aggregating $241,000,000 sustained by the United States in the occupation of the Rhineland be paid before any reparations. There was nothing that could be said on the subject at this time, Mr. Hughes declared.

That $241,000,000 would not completely satisfy the claims of the American government growing out of the maintenance of the American forces in Germany was indicated by statistics compiled by the war department claims board. These show the gross cost of the Rhine forces from Nov. 11, 1918, to Sept. 30, 1921, to have been $245,335,512. After deducting credits to Germany of $35,555,000 on account of funds obtained by the United States since the armistice,

Since Sept. 30, 1921, it was estimated by officials today, there have accrued expenses of approximately $5,000,000 on account of the Army of Occupation, and it was said that the present forces in Germany would cost this government $4,000,000 each quarter. Included in the charges against Germany are costs of the American section of the inter-allied Rhine land high commission, where gross expenses in the period from May 1, 1919, to Sept. 30, 1921, were $275,425.

DISCUSSED ENGLISH AND ITALIAN POLITICS

English and Italian politics were discussed interestingly yesterday forenoon in the third of a series of talks on Current Events by Mrs. Claude U. Gilson, given at All Souls parish house before a large class of women.

In the course of her discussion she spoke on Pluma, to which special interest attaches at present. Why this little town is so importantly connected with international affairs was thoroughly explained. She told of Italy's position, that the Adriatic is exclusively for the Italians and that others seeking a foothold there are regarded as intruders. When any controversy arises relative to Pluma, according to Mrs. Gilson the Balkan situation again confronts the powers.

She said that there is hard feeling between Italy and France because Clemenceau sided with ex-President Wilson in the Pluma matter, and brought out the fact that France, a neutral state, with the largest standing army in Europe, favored making Pluma an international state.

How the balance of power in Italy is now held by the "Popolari," a party which she said was launched by the late Pope Benedict after the signing of the armistice, was fully explained. This party, the product of the late pope's statesmanship, has, she asserted, wrested a great deal of power from the socialist party.

Mrs. Gilson spoke of meeting Italian women last summer who were terribly afraid the Vatican would gain control of the schools, feeling that the ignorance of other Italian women would make it a sinister thing.

That Lords Robert and Hugh Cecil are "constitutional cross-benchers" in England, and Senators Borah and La Follette are the same in America, was one of Mrs. Gilson's apt remarks.

She concluded by telling of the contrast between the personal and political viewpoint of the Englishman, giving as an illustration a story which exemplified her contention.

BABY PEGGY, THREE-YEAR-OLD STAR OF CENTURY COMEDY IN "PEGGY BEHAVE"

New York, N. Y.,
March 10, 1922

Dear Baby Peggy:—

I love you! Satanic angel, angelic imp, you have won my heart. My allegiance to Jackie Coogan as the infant ruler of the screen I transfer to you.

Heretofore I have looked upon you only as a little child, captivated your audience through baby pranks. Now, ever, after seeing you in "Peggy Behave" I have come to the conclusion that you are master of the miniature art.

Your whimsiness has become a matter of deliberation. You seem to sense just when a smile, a snirk, or a frown will burrow its way into the heart of the audience. This is more than mere response to the dictates of a director.

The scene in which you pretend to be cleaning a window which you had broken just before your aunt appeared, was one of the greatest I have ever seen on the screen.

There you exhibit spontaneity, a quality sadly lacking in the acting of many adult stars. The joy of acting, of mimicry, appears to be the very joy of life to you. Thus you attain a high degree of naturalism, and that quality is the essence of acting.

There is about you a weird, uncanny intelligence which seems to probe the emotions of the adult soul and, comprehending them, gives them expression which only long years of living give the understanding to express.

And so when I say I love you I know you will understand that I worship at the feet of Art and I trust you will accept my devotion and not betray it by becoming "camera wise," as almost all juvenile actors of the screen do.

Most affectionately yours,
JAMES W. DEAN.

P. S. You may call me Jim, if you like, but please destroy this note. It might be found and printed in some newspaper.

How to Sell Scenarios

John Emerson recently told in a radio talk how to market scenarios. He answered the questions most asked in the past year. In merit, his advice was—

Unpublished stories are more in demand in Hollywood than in New York. It is most convenient to sell your story to a magazine first and then market the movie rights.

Send stories to scenario editors in short story synopsis form.

Original stories sell from $500 to $50,000, depending on who you are and whom you sell to.

Romantic melodramas and comedies are most in demand.

Try to get studio experience in any capacity, from charwoman to extra.

You can't copyright scenarios, as such, but you can copyright short stories and retain the movie rights.

A synopsis should be 500 to 1000 words long.

Chaplin's "Carmen"

Chaplin's burlesque on "Carmen," made in the old Essanay days, is now being revived. Here was a play that took the comedian entirely out of his character of lopped-over shoes, cane and derby hat.

One wonders why Chaplin was not noticed then as an "artist." It has been only in the last two years that commentators on motion pictures have had the temerity to refer to him as an artist.

Another interesting thing about this old picture is that Ben Turpin appeared in it as an unnamed player. And his crossed eyes were just as crossed and just as funny then as they are now.

The road to fame is a long one and a hard pull.

Marcia Manon is to play the role of Lady Astrup, the "vamp" in "The Masquerader."

John Gilbert is to star in "The Splendid Outcast" by George Gibbs and Tom Mix in "Alcatraz," by Max Brand.

Charles Ray's first picture under his contract with United Artists will probably be "The Father-Made Man," which was originally bought by Mary Pickford from Goldwyn as a vehicle for Jack Pickford.

Many college students appear as extras in "Sonny," Richard Barthelmess' next.

Gladys Walton is filming "Top of the Morning."

Farmers Education and Co-operative Union of Kansas is the largest co-operative institution in the world.

IN HOLD-UP CASE

Police of Syracuse, N. Y., accuse Jessie Myrtle Bates, 25, with holding a revolver to the neck of a taxi-driver, forcing him to carry a man who held up a store at Canastota, N. Y.

GIRLS! USE LEMONS TO WHITEN HANDS

Press the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter-pint of harmless and delightful lemon-bleach lotion to soften and whiten red, rough, chapped hands. This home-made lemon lotion is far superior to glycerin and rose water to smoothen the skin. Famous stage beauties use it to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, because it doesn't irritate.

TO PUSH BONUS BILL

Announcement

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Announcement yesterday by Controller of the Currency Crissinger that if the icates an accuracy for bonus to ex-service men, created a stir among members of congress, but leaders regarded it as unlikely that his stand would sway a majority of the ways and means committee members from their determination to report the measure to the house.

With opponents of the legislation conceding that the bill has enough friends in the communitarian that it has passed, speculation entered on the effect of the attitude of the currency controlled. There was considerable talk among members in the lobbies most of the representatives taking the position that it would be best to increase the bill as drafted, but members of the committee were reluctant to express their views.

Republican leaders, however, indicated there would be no change in the plans for consideration of the bill by the ways and means committee on Saturday with the expectation that it will be reported at that time, and for a vote on the measure in the house of the rules a week from Monday.

Lucas Demands Free Debate

Twice during the day the "bonus question" broke into the debate on the floor of the house—once when Representative Knight, republican, Ohio, denounced the bill as "indefensible from either the economic or patriotic standpoint," and again when Representative Lucas, republican, Massachusetts, proposed against the plan to take the measure up under suspension of rules, which would limit debate to 10 minutes under ordinary procedure and would shut off amendments from the floor.

Mr. Lucas declared it was proposed that the house, after spending hours in desultory debate on questions of little importance, devote only 10 minutes to a discussion of "one of the greatest questions this congress has had to deal with." He contended it would be not only for the best interests of the republican party, but of the house, if time were afforded for members to discuss the bonus question freely and fully.

New Committeemen Against It

Another development in the situation was the announcement by Representative Mills, republican, of New York, selected as a member of the ways and means committee to succeed Representative Houghton, resigning, that he is opposed to the bonus bill.
He indicated that he would vote against a favorable report.

Mr. Crissinger described the proposed plan of issuing adjusted service certificates for use by the soldiers, if desired, as collateral for loans to 50 per cent of their face value, as "the worst kind of frozen credit," and declared while he would be without authority to enter national banks to refuse to accept them as security, he would strongly advise against their acceptance.

The certificates would be "non-negotiable paper," Mr. Crissinger explained, and loans upon them would load the banks up for the three-year term which they cover, with an unavoidable loss of security.

The certificates would be similar to real estate loans, which are not considered by Federal Reserve banks, he said, "and far from the liquid security best for the banks."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatrical Own Press Agents

D. F. KATH'S THEATRE

Kate Ellender and Sam Williams, who are appearing in an intimate skit at the D. F. Kath theatre this week, are among the best known of vaudeville players today.

Everything that the do has polish and clarity to it, and everything they do has the quality of "getting over." The players of the "The Two Orphans," in a musical performance of unusual merit, have kept their friends of former years and have added many to the increasing circle. Their act is of very high calibre. A comedy that is as unusual as it is well done is "Show Me," played by Walter Fenner & Co., who Faber & McGowan in talking skit. and lively all the way through. Other acts of the bill are: Van & Tyson, dancers; Florence Brady, singer, and Roy & Arthur in a juggling comedy.

SUNDAY AT THE STRAND

The special vaudeville attraction at the Strand for Sunday will be Noah's Five Synopses. This act is registered among the very best in high-class vaudeville and will unquestion-ably make a big hit. The feature photoplay will be "The Son of Wallingford," and will also be the best Sunday concert in town.

HILTO THEATRE

But two more days remain in which to see young Jackie Coogan, who is appearing in "My Boy" at the Hilto theatre all this week. It is one of the best pictures the little lad has appeared in and is a laugh from beginning to end. In the same program with Coogan is Wilton Lackaye in "God's Crucible," also a snappy comedy and the Kingdome.

OPERA HOUSE

Miss Fields' treatment of the role of the bright-eyed, smiling, happy Irish lady in "Sailin' Through," Jane Cowie's great stage success at the Opera House this week, is one of the most enjoyable of her season's repertoire.
She makes it one of the most lovable characters imaginable. The other especially "The Two Orphans" and Louis Allen, are most entertaining as the old pair. Next week's attraction will be "The Two Orphans." Nothing need be said of the worth of this world-famed play.
It is too well known to need further comment except to say that it is one of the most gripping dramas ever produced. Order your tickets early.

THE STRAND

"Without Doubt or Clergy," one of Rudyard Kipling's greatest love stories that has been read in all corners of the globe is being presented in picture form at the Strand. Those who have seen it pronounce it a wonderful screen effort. Don't miss it. William Russell, in "Singing River," is the other feature of merit.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Only a few more opportunities remain for admirers of William S. Hart to see him in his latest production,
"Travelin' On," at the Merrimack Square theatre. Next Monday will come "Morn of the Lady Letty," a noted sea story with Rudolph Valentino and Dorothy Dalton.

CROWN THEATRE

"The Big Town Round-Up," in which Tom Mix, the Fox star, is to open a run of two days at the Crown theatre, today could be entertainment of the very best Mix brand, if one may judge by an outline of the story, written by William McLeod Raine.

Mix appears as a young ranch owner, with whom romance begins when he meets, through auto trouble, the pretty daughter of a wealthy father who is on tour seeking investments in the far west. The romance is developed in San Francisco, and of course culminates in the union of the lovers.

But meanwhile Mix experiences—thanks to sundry foes—enough thrilling encounters to satisfy the most rabid trouble hunter. Also he rescues from imminent peril two girls—each of them twice—in addition to saving a child in a runaway.

All in all, it is quite impossible to escape the impression that "The Big Town Round-Up" is a speedy and never-fading proposition.
The role of the heroine is enacted by Ora Carewe.

TAKE CUDE'S
PEPTO-

It is the Safe and Reliable Tonic
Used by Physicians for 30 Years

There are "new styles" even in medicines. A new "fad" comes, is popular for a while, and then fades out of public view. A remedy that has stood the test for thirty years must have remarkable merit and cannot be called a "fad." Such is Gude's Pepto-Mangan, originated by Dr. A. Gude over a quarter century ago, which has helped many thousands of people back to good health by improving the blood. Pepto-Mangan is an iron tonic. It contains iron in a special form easily absorbed by the system. It puts color into the lips and cheeks and improves the entire body by improving and enriching the blood. It is sold by druggists in both liquid and tablet form. If you want to be well and strong and look fine and healthy, take Gude's Pepto-

FIVE CENT FARE NOT TO RETURN UNTIL 1928

BOSTON, March 10.—Mayor Curley's campaign promise to obtain a five-cent fare for Boston patrons of the Elevated road received a severe, if not fatal, setback yesterday at the hands of Attorney-General Allen. Likewise patrons of the Eastern Massachusetts street railway (the Day State) are hit hard as far as hope for lower fares is concerned.

Mr. Allen in an opinion given to the house committee on rules states that all bills introduced into the legislature looking to a resumption of the five-cent fare on either road are unconstitutional.

The attorney general takes this position, in brief, because the public control acts, under which both roads are now operating through the medium of trustees, are contracts between the state and the two street railway corporations.

In other words that the state has made contracts with the roads and must live up to those contracts. There can be no change in the method, the attorney general rules, until the terms of the contract have expired. In the case of the Elevated the public control act or contract does not expire until 1928. The Day State contract expires about the same time.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., March 10.—A threatening letter received by the editor of a Taft newspaper was the latest development of supposed Ku Klux Klan activities in this country today. The letter was signed "K.K.K." and addressed to A. M. Keene, editor of the Midway Driller. It said:

"Let this be a warning to you and to all those connected with your office and your correspondents which means those who send out reports from the fields.

"We don't want any more such reports as have been sent out and insist that you take unto yourselves that silence is golden."

FOR REGISTRATION OF ALIENS IN U. S.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 10.—Public support for a measure which, it was said, congress soon would be asked to enact as a law and which would provide for the annual registration of aliens in the United States was urged in an address here by E. J. Hennings, assistant secretary of labor.

"Such a law would help aliens toward becoming American citizens," said Mr. Hennings, for with the registration fees they pay, educational work would be conducted to acquaint them with American ideas and ideals.

POLICE ORDERS READ TO NIGHT SHIFTS

A list of orders, some of them new and others old, were read to the night patrolmen of the local police force at roll-call last night. The orders were also read at all roll-calls today.

Of the new orders the most important are: Officers receiving damage to their clothing or equipment while on duty will report same to superintendent so that city may bear expense; the appointment of Captain David Poire of the night desk to have charge of the assignment of officers to routes; and the appointment of Chauffeur Frederick Catter as acting foreman of the police garage.

WILL BUILD WATER PURIFICATION PLANT

A water purification plant for the purpose of purifying the mill water supply of the Lowell Machinery in Carter street is being built in the yard of the corporation at an estimated cost of $25,000. Building permits for the erection of the purifying tank and a steel storage tank were issued this week in the city buildings department. The purifying tank is of concrete construction and has a basin of 135 by 75 feet. The steel storage tank has a capacity of 20,000 gallons. The builder is the William M. Bailey Co. of Boston.

PUMP COMPANY BILLS HELD UP

Major George H. Brown has held up bills of the Mills-Chalmers Pump Co. amounting to $14,000, presented for repair work done on the pump at the West Sixth street station in February and January of this year. The February bill amounts to $14,500, while the prior charges is in the sum of $12,500. The major questions items providing charges of $15 per day per man, plus charges of $15 per man for meals and rooms.

Another bill held up by the Junior 12 from the Lowell Gas Light Co. in the sum of $2720.15 for street gas lighting for February. It is believed that this bill is held up only temporarily, or until some agreement is reached between the Gas company and the city on the new lighting contract.

line that he might become eligible for it through examination, Colonel Stevens replied that that, too, was something on which he could not comment at present.

Earlier in the day Tyler A. Stevens, brother of Col. Stevens and an avowed candidate for the position, said that he still was in the light.

Questioned regarding the possibility of his brother accepting the position temporarily, Mr. Stevens said that probably he would, because of close friendship with Congressman Rogers.

"I do not think, however, that he wants the position permanently. If he should become eligible for it," he added, "in fact, he has told me that he does not want it and would not consider it."

Former Mayor Candidate
Hon. Perry D. Thompson has scores of local men and women working in his interests for the position and in addition has received offers of assistance from state and national office holders of high station.

"Certainly, I am a candidate for the postmastership," said the former mayor today and intimated that already he has taken forward strides in his campaign.

"I know quite a bit about the postal department, you know," said Mr. Thompson, "for I spent many hours in the local office when my father served as postmaster."

It was the general opinion about town today that the former mayor is admirably fitted for the position inasmuch as he has had so much training as an executive, both in handling men and civic problems.

A civil service examination for the position will be held, just how soon is not known. Temporary appointments usually are for no longer a period than six months, so it is very probable that an examination date will be set for some time this summer.

special police as yet, although the squad of police guards continue on regular duty at the Bay State cotton mills. The opening of the mill gates this morning not only surprised some of the operatives on strike, but convinced them now, they say, that the Hamilton officials have no intention of discussing wage matters with the union heads.

Gompers Reception Plans
The reception to President Samuel Gompers of the A. F. of L., who is to address a monster mass meeting in Lowell at the Colonial theatre, Old Fellows building in Middlesex street, next Monday night, promises to eclipse any labor rally ever held in Lowell in the past 10 years.

Because of the Gompers flying visit on short notice, the Sunday afternoon rally, at which Mrs. Sarah A. Conboy was to speak, will probably not be held. President John Hanley of the textile council is expecting a letter from Mr. Gompers explaining the latter's speaking tour itinerary.

President Gompers is also to speak in Manchester, N. H., next week. On Sunday afternoon he will speak in Pawtucket and in the evening will address a rally in Providence to support the Rhode Island textile workers in their fight for better wages and working hours.

From Providence Mr. Gompers expects to come to Lowell. Arrangements are being made today for a mighty reception, in which every union labor organization in Lowell and Middlesex county will be invited to participate.

Last night the Polish textile workers union held a meeting in Merrimack hall with John Belasco presiding. A Polish organizer from Newmarket, N. H., President John Hanley and Walter G. Leach, president of the Teamsters, addressed the meeting, and a large number of operatives were enrolled under the union banner.

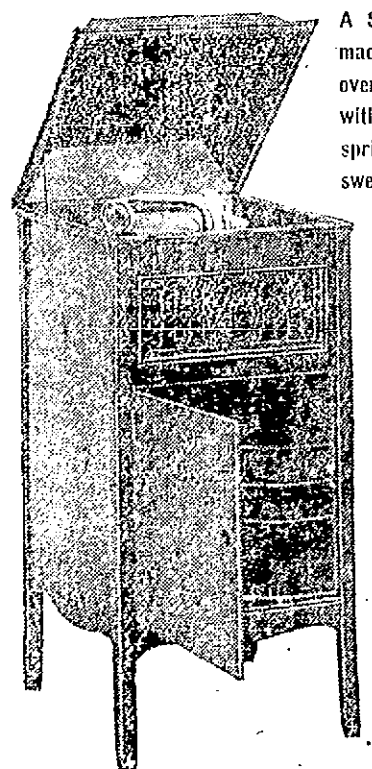

Reagan Goes to Ware
National Organizer Thomas J. Reagan left this morning for Ware, to take charge of organization work among 1200 operatives there who walked out Monday, declining to accept a heavy wage reduction and increased working hours.

Picketing of the mills in Rhode Island, Manchester, Dover and Nashua was reported as heavily increased yesterday and today, with large numbers patrolling the neighborhood of the Pacific mills in Dover.

This afternoon at 2:30 an open meeting for strikers and all operatives desiring to come in, was held in Trades & Labor hall. Several international officers of the United Textile Workers of America from Manchester were killed to speak.

LOWELL DRIVING CLUB

Lowell Horsemen and Visitors

Have Big Time at Annual Banquet

The sixth annual banquet and talk fest of the Lowell driving club was held in Highland hall last night and it was an extremely vivid event from oyster stew to Neapolitan ices and thence across the dead blue to ex-Mayor White from down the river to "Pop" Fletcher of Littleton and everyone else acquainted with an up-to-date half-mile. To be sure there were rare occasions—very rare and also very, very dry—when the days of long ago were pictured a little too colorfully to suit some of the boys who helped lyan the dachunds and then came back to lick up something that savored of real invigorating qualities, only to find the white aprons plod away on the shelf, the brass faucets rusty and every corkscrew turned into door latches for the new prohibition parlors, warranted all pure milk and honey. More than 250 followers of the Golden Cove, Short Ship, Long Ship and a few other fast-moving merry-go-rounds representing the half-mile, succeeded in hitting the Branch street track last night, rounding the last turn and sailing joyously into the assembly hall where the crack horsemen of Lowell and vicinity, many of them armed cap-a-pie in rathskellar aprons all bound round with the white strings, chiefs, cooks and waiters for the nonce, provided with rare ability out of the finest mouse for a crowd of nearly meal-wallopers over set before a smoldering fire in the history of the Spindale City trotting game. No horseman's round-up in the merry sextet of annuals, hardy and otherwise, ever brought together a more notable collection of all who are so named and dyed-in-the-wool than last night's splendid gathering. If Tom Braden or Brother Goyette, Arnold Ryan, or Lewis Clark—and even Matt Bradford and Johnny Donnelly and Jockey Maguire and Joe Anna—were there—overlooked anybody in the guest list last evening, their sins will be forgiven. To name all the Golden Cove enthusiasts and out of town guests of honor who sat down to the first oyster stew and wound up by planting far down below the equator on top of a host of other good things in the food line a brick of extra cold ice cream would be to grab up the directory and begin with the "A's." They were all there—they were all set for a real evening—and they left no runners-up. The scorecards dazzled the eyes of all the fans last night, and the head table sparkled like a row of brilliant of the No. 1 water—for of course it was water, water everywhere, with the name of Volstead wreathed in metaphorical black. All the same, the diners regretted nothing—they had all the prize packages in the line of invited guests any horse club could wish for.

Not content with mayors and ex-mayors and local "pols" galore, there was Frank Muzzey, race track antique and acquainted with the 1-2-3 method of picking the best pools, eliminating the also-rans always; President Allan Z. Wilson of the little old Bay State circuit; Judge James L. Stetson of Nashua; Frank P. Kenney, representing the American Horse Breeder; J. E. "Pop" Fletcher of Littleton, who made many new friends and got one of the most receptive receptions of the season; Lester Doro, A. No. 1 horseman, (read A. A. always); Deputy Sheriff George F. Stiles, another popularity favorite; and a royal sportsman, Justin Edwards, founder of the Short Ship.

Brother Herbert A. Rugg acted as one-man reception committee, alert ticket dispenser, program distributor and general factotum in the same old genial style with the Rugg label. Herbie's extreme anxiety to see that the horse writers great and small got good front seats, was appreciated by the one-side-please trenchermen. Secretary Ryan occupied a sturdy front seat with the other rosy noddies and kept tabs on the good stuff to be chronicled in the club record books, but no speech was forthcoming, much to the "see's" friends' disappointment. Hears of credit for the successful round-up last evening must go to Brother Ryan, of course.

The squad of driving club stellar lights responsible for the hearty banquet included Thomas H. Braden, Lewis C. Clark, Matthew Bradford, Ralph Harvey, Joseph Annis, Joseph Davidson and Peter A. Goyette. Of course, President Wotton was constellation-in-chief.

The supper included cold corned beef, oyster stew, potted head cheese, plain ham, minced ham, pressed ham, pickles, baked beans, rolls, cake, ice cream and a few more tidbits. Excellent cigars went around the tables after the feasting. Tables were set for 110 members and guests, but many more sat down to a "second table" to make the banquet complete. It was the biggest gathering local horsemen ever entertained, and augers great sport ahead at Golden Cove when the new half-mile track is ready.

Excellent music was provided by Neyman's orchestra, with every late jazz number on the program. An additional feature was the Mendelssohn male quartet—The Harrises—Harry N. Patton,

Harry H. Pascall, C. Harry Howard and Harry C. Needham. After the "Town Talk" Thousand Island dressing, the tartar sauce, olive-naise and other condiments had been wiped from the banquet cloths and stables Fred, Pres. Wotton rang the starter's bell. Every seat was taken and scores of fans stood by the "rails." Not a Lowell stable was unrepresented. All classes were free-for-all with stakes easy. The White Ribbon league would have had a new lease of life had any of them struck Highland hall at 3:15 p. m.

Looking younger than ever and thoroughly lauded for the occasion, President Wotton, forgetting the dangers for one evening, dropped the flag and everybody docket to the pole. Mr. Wotton remarked that it was a pleasant evening, a pleasant bunch of people hereabouts and handed out a few more bouquets to one and all. He also called attention to next Tuesday night's club meeting, which is of vital interest to the members.

The president then paused a moment, asking the members to stand silently in memoriam for five honored and beloved members of the club, who passed down the home stretch since the last banquet. All present arose in solemn tribute to the memory of the departed members, Isaac Bradley, Arthur T. Mann, Caleb J. Smith, Dr. Amasa Howard and James S. Hanson. Mr. Hanson was the first president of the Lowell Driving Club.

Ex-Mayor James E. O'Donnell was introduced as postmaster for the evening, receiving the warm greetings of all diners standing one more and joining in a very fine tribute to one of the most popular members of the Golden Cove organization. The ex-mayor said he was glad indeed to be "himmy on the spot," as he had been referred to by President Wotton as a "jazy thing."

"I admit that I'm getting a bit heavy," said the ex-mayor gravely, "and probably shall have to join the Fat Men's club. And that is why I arrived here tonight a little late. I stayed away so I wouldn't have to eat. At the same time, I know the dinner could not be surprised anywhere if it is anything like what the driving club always puts up. The last dinner I attended could not be beaten."

Mr. O'Donnell praised the fine reputation of the club in the world of sports, calling it "the most hospitable body" he had ever seen. He predicted that the officers of the club would keep up this reputation in the years to come. He regarded the institution as a great success in every way, both as a social organization and one of business. He praised the wonderful array of track horses that are harbored in Lowell, calling the list one "to be proud of." Local horsemen he regarded as high class in every respect and worthy of supporting in their plans for the extension of the sporting game at Golden Cove.

The male quartet supplied "We're Marching On" and saved an encore, then came Mayor Brown, introduced by the ex-mayor as "a man who had the best interests of the horsemen as well as the people of Lowell at heart." The mayor was very brief. He expressed pleasure at his cordial reception and showered fulsome praises on the driving club. He recalled former days when, he said, he had the help of numerous local horsemen in his political campaigns. He promised to add the club in anything it might do to keep Lowell in the forefront at all times in matters of recreation. He described efforts that are being made, he claimed, to provide better streets for the city. He favored all improvements, but declared that it would take considerable time and asked the horsemen to "be patient."

Next on the speaker's program was Orator Pouzner, introduced as a genuine Lowell booster with a high cache of principles. He praised the ambition of the organization and lauded its unselfishness and fairness in all things tending to revive racing at Golden Cove and give the people of Lowell splendid outdoor sport.

Ex-Mayor White, as usual, got an uproarious greeting from friends, old and new. The Lawrence visitor was asked for a real speech, and handed it out directly from the old shoulder. He paid earnest respects to Mayor Brown who smiled at him through those now tortoise shell specs in dutilful acknowledgment. Mr. White, in rarest vein and bubbling over the ardor of his new jokes, declared that he provided a merry mixture for the after-dinner verbal feast, said a Lowell horseman's banquet was just the thing "to make one feel his oats."

He paid gallant respects to "old man Muzzey," who retaliated by hurling one after another of broad, dried oyster stew, a couple of paper napkins at the White headpiece.

When the crowd quieted down, Brother White, in Caesar-like version of all that is redolent of approbation, convinced the driving club members that they know how to provide the where-with-all for a jazy time at Golden Cove with fresh trimmings from the jockey boards. He said he never knew a finer bunch of horsemen anywhere, giving even Brother Muzzey a fair margin of popularity when it comes to chronicling "firsts" on the road-fallen outcries.

It complimented the Golden Cove track game, declaring it better sport down the line than he was able to find on any other Bay State oval. "I'm an 'er' now, boys," he went on.

WISE WOMEN

A famous medical man of ancient times states regarding his writings that they were but a collection of knowledge obtained from the "Wise Women."

Do you realize that in these times the women, and not the men, know about the healing properties of medicinal plants, roots and herbs? From the earliest times, women had a knowledge of the treatment of disease and of the healing merit of roots and herbs.

Lysia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was originated by a woman, Lydia E. Pinkham, and is now known and praised by women of all ages. It is prepared from roots and herbs having medicinal action of great value in the treatment of troubles women so often have.—Adv.

"but I'm not going to be an 'er' very long. I did a little something for Lawrence that they won't forget down there. I seld a lot of land for the horse game down there. It cost $30,000, and I was defeated for mayor, but that don't seem to be my complaint. I am the father of good roads down in Lawrence. The book is open. And the people of that city can thank me, boys, for their fine roads—don't forget that I am not wasting away down there now! You can see that I'm still on earth. And when the season opens up here in old Lowell, my friends, I'll be in Lowell!"

President Wilson, of the Bay State, gave the banquet a little history of trotting, praised the Lowell club and its sturdy and progressive membership, and told of the pleasant association he had always had with Secretary Ryan, whom he considered "one of the finest sportsmen hereabouts."

The president announced that the Bay State is to have $100,000 in purse money this year, and 10 solid weeks of racing, with one week still open. He hoped the Golden Cove half-mile would be ready in season to grab that lune week, and assured the sportsmen present last night that a Bay State week here would be appreciated by every horseman in the old Bay State. He announced that the game has been relocated in Northampton, Greenfield and Windsor. He predicted more exciting racing, believing it to be best for the game of the future. Purse as high as $2,000 was offered by some Short Ship tracks this year for two and three-year-olds. The president acknowledged his high and sincere regard for the Lowell Driving club officials and for Lowell's warm hospitality every day of the year. "I am glad to know that you are going to have a full half-mile track," the president continued. "I believe when a horse scores a 194 that he should be placed in the 20 class afterward. The greatest troubles we have had in the past are concerned with the placing of

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Formation of a prohibition "Navy" for combating rum smuggling along the Florida coast has the approval of Secretary Mellon. It was stated yesterday at the treasury. Officials declared that the use of Coast Guard cutters by the prohibition authorities should have a marked effect on the operations of liquor runners in southern waters.

Mobilization of the prohibition fleet is progressing rapidly. A Coast Guard cutter has been made liaison office between the Coast Guard Service and prohibition headquarters for perfecting the plans for the use of subchasers. Details of the plans, however, officials said, are being kept secret to avoid information reaching the ears of rum runners.

BAVARIANS REFUSE TO TAKE OATH

BERLIN, March 10.—Public officials in some of the federated German states have refused to take the oath of allegiance to the republican constitution on the ground they owed allegiance only to their own state.

The point of law evoked lively discussion, particularly in Bavaria, where respect for the present German regime is not very deeply grounded. Legal edicts were brought in two cases for reinstatement of the officials whose offices had been declared vacant on account of their non-constitutional attitude.

One court ruled the oath was unnecessary but a higher court reversed the decision.

LINDSAY'S WIFE DID ALL HER OWN WORK

NEW YORK, March 10.—Mrs. Alfred E. Lindsay, wife of the bankrupt "Domino Club" broker who is accused of leading New York society women out of nearly $1,000,000, met Asst. Dist. Atty. Murphy yesterday and sobbed out a story of privations she suffered while her husband was operating in five and six figures on the stock market.

"For the past three years I have done my own work, including washing, ironing and scrubbing," Mrs. Lindsay said. "We lived very quietly and never spent much money, nor did we entertain lavishly. I only bought one dress last year."

Dr. E. Arnold Enfield, indicted with Lindsay for grand larceny, lived in the Lindsay home for nearly eight years, she said, during which time she did his washing, ironing and mending, as well as her husband's.

She said she never met any of the society women Lindsay and Dr. Enfield knew and are accused of robbing. Mr. Murphy declined to discuss his talk with Mrs. Lindsay, other than to say she had convinced him she had nothing to do with Lindsay's alleged crimes.

Henry Goldstein, her counsel, told of her interview with Mr. Murphy. "Mrs. Lindsay still has implicit faith in her husband," he said, and that if given the opportunity to do good he will do it. "The whole affair is a great shock to her, and at present she is in a condition amounting to a physical breakdown."

"She told Mr. Murphy that she now is absolutely destitute, that she hasn't any money, jewelry or furs. What little she had, she gave to Mr. Lindsay years ago and the proceeds were used for living expenses."

"Her friends have generously rallied to her assistance and offered her a home as long as she desires."

"She was very much surprised when informed that a lady she knew and given money to Mr. Lindsay, and feeling aggrieved when she realized that this friend had been imposed upon. When I assured her that most of this money had been repaid, she seemed better satisfied."

Mrs. Lindsay has turned over to Mr. Murphy the key to the pretentious home Lindsay maintained at South Nyack, so that he may make a search for valuables, Mr. Goldstein added. She already had agreed to have the house sold to help make good money lost by women through Lindsay's operations.

LUXURIOUS BATHS FOR PET DOGS

PARIS, March 10.—No longer will those pampered pets of Parisian women—the Pomeranians and the Pekingese—be left to the hurried care of the maid for their weekly baths.

Elaborate baths, constructed and equipped exclusively for the abidings of pet dogs of wealthy Parisians have just been opened in the exclusive Saint Honore quarter of Paris.

A fashionable dog's life in a veritable path of roses, if the word of attendants at the canine bathing establishment may be accepted as true.

Attendants key no fides in a luxurious motor car to the baths where he has a private bathing compartment.

After the bath experienced masseurs pay their respects to his canine highness while a manicurist shapes his aristocratic claws. When the veterinary determines that his health is all that his owner could desire, he re-enters the motorcar with his mistress and returns home to a dainty meal of porterhouse steak.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," now because it cures so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.—Adv.

JEWES WILL LAUNCH LIFE SAVING EXPEDITION

When the Jews of Massachusetts embark on their life saving expedition next March 25, what promises to be the greatest campaign for the great cause in all the history of Massachusetts Jewish communities, will be launched with news of success from many cities in the state.

Enthusiastic and inspired workers are ready to take the field March 26 and are determined not to waste one minute of the ten days in which Massachusetts quota of $1,150,000 must be subscribed for the relief of the hundreds of thousands of Jewish war orphans and millions of Jewish war refugees in the war-torn countries of Eastern Europe.

In Gloucester, the entire quota of the city was pledged by the team workers themselves at their first meeting and within a week preliminary pledges had brought the amount to nearly double the first figure. Joseph Kerr, chairman of the Gloucester drive, and his associates, are determined to write a new page in the annals of generosity and are after a 200 per cent. over subscription.

Haverhill, Mass., which will begin its work March 19, with a monster mass meeting, has already a large part of its quota on hand, and from Springfield,

HOPE OF AVERTING COAL STRIKE VANISHES

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 10.—Hope of a nation-wide coal strike being averted by the government's appeal for the operators and miners' meeting in a wage conference, seemed to have vanished today among officials of the United Mine Workers of America on account of the refusal of some operators to meet with the miners to negotiate an interstate wage agreement.

Union officials, however, refrained from any announcement on their future plans, but it was indicated that the policy committee might be called into session before April 1 to deal with all questions relating to the prospective strike.

SHIP LIKELY TO BREAK IN TWO ANY MOMENT

LONDON, March 10.—The American steamer West Alabamian, ashore off Helligoland, is half full of water and likely to break in two at any moment says a Central News despatch from Amsterdam.

The weather is so bad that lighters have been unable to reach her.

POPE HAS REGULAR AMERICAN HANDSHAKE

NEW YORK, March 10.—Two hundred Catholics, personally blessed by Pope Pius XI, are Lenten gifts brought by John A. O'Dwyer of Toledo, O., supreme director of the Knights of Columbus, who has just returned from Rome.

"Pope Pius has a good, American handshake," said O'Dwyer, the first American layman to be granted an audience with the new Pontiff. "He speaks English fluently and knows American geography."

U. S. HOLD 44 CARAT GEM

Princess Fatima Charged With Smuggling — Now Living on Charity

NEW YORK, March 10.—The 44-carat diamond, which only eight short months ago blazed the way for Princess Fatima, sultana of Kabul, into the presence of President Harding, may delay her departure for Afghanistan, which was to have taken place today.

Charging that the fabulous stone was smuggled into this country with the princess, arrived last July, officials of the United States customs department yesterday sought to gain possession of it. But Sheriff Percy Nagel, who has held the diamond for several months as security for numerous creditors, refused to give it up.

After hearing arguments of counsel for one sheriff and customs department, Supreme Court Justice Latham advised the latter to obtain a federal order directing that the stone be turned over to them. The agents announced they would proceed at once to do so. Princess Fatima, whose head-diamond nostrils and dazzling wardrobe amazed Broadway when she arrived in this country last July, did not express any considerable interest when she learned of the charges that she evaded duty on her jewels. She continued packing her meagre effects prepared to sail for her native land, as the "guest" of the British government—a penniless and disillusioned woman—an object of charity.

Her three sons will accompany her on one of the tramp freighters sailing for Bombay. From there they will travel overland, probably foot to Afghanistan, where they will resume the simple life again in an attempt to live down the ignominy of their experiences in America.

The princess will wear her nose jewel back to Afghanistan, but the big diamond will remain in a safe deposit vault here to await settlement of the demands of her creditors and customs officials. Her other jewels, her wardrobe of gaudy silks and her staff of servants also will be left in America. She will travel third class, a charity passenger—just a shabbily dressed old woman with three grown sons.

But in Afghanistan she still will be the Princess Fatima, sultana of Kabul.

SEALING FLEET OFF FOR ICEFIELDS

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., March 10.—The sealing fleet of nine ships has sailed for the icefields. The ships are Terra Nova, Eagle, Ranger, Viking, Neptune, Thetis, Diana, Seal and Sagana. They carry about 1300 men.

When the ships get among the ice floes carrying seals the men leave them, surround a herd, and proceed to clean them to death. The dead bodies are then dragged to the ships over the ice.

SALVATION ARMY WILL CLOSE SOUP KITCHEN

The Salvation Army's soup kitchen will close the end of this month. Today kettles were put out to obtain funds with which to carry on the work for the remainder of the month. Tomorrow the kettles will be put out for the last time. The announcement of the closing will come as a hard blow to the many who have availed themselves of the opportunity of a bowl of steaming hot soup at something during the day.

The reason for the closing, as given out by Adjutant Mark Arnold today, is two-fold. The soup kitchen has been conducted at a great loss, with no help in sight and the fact that the spring is coming on will give men a chance to get work in the country.

Adjutant Arnold said this morning that he was sorry that such a step was necessary, especially considering the fact that the numbers to apply each day were increasing.

For the past three months the army has been giving out soup at its headquarters in Appleton street. Thousands of gallons of meaty soup have been given away. Some have come to the kitchen in person, others have sent requests for it, while still others have had it brought to them.

The quality of the soup has been considered excellent. Yesterday a prominent business man called at the headquarters during the noon hour and asked to be conducted around the establishment. He was held over during the noon hour and given a chance to see the actual functioning of the soup kitchen. After the rush was over he sampled and inspected the soup. He declared it to be of very fine quality and containing a great deal of nourishment.

The Army officials hope the response to the kettles today and tomorrow will be generous enough to enable them to carry on the work for the remainder of the month.

REASSEMBLE THE ILL-FATED ROMA

NORFOLK, Va., March 10.—The giant semi-rigid airship Roma, destroyed at the Army Supply Base more than two weeks ago with loss of 41 lives and injury to many more, is being reassembled at the base. Enlisted men from Langley Field began the work yesterday and as fast as sections are placed together photographs are being taken.

When the task is completed a photograph showing the ship as she was when she started from Langley Field on her final voyage, with the exception of the fabric covering, will be sent to Washington.

The steel ribs of the Roma that were bent and twisted by the explosion that wrecked the ship have been straightened out as far as possible and are being replaced by experts practically as they were before the disaster. The work is being done under the direction of Lieut. Burr, who was piloting the ship at the time she took the fatal nose dive.

The board investigating the Roma disaster is still in session.

EX-POLICE CHIEF SLASHED IN JAIL

WORCESTER, March 10.—Patrick J. Canty, ex-chief of police in Webster who is serving a sentence in the Worcester house of correction for accepting a bribe from a bootlegger, is recovering in the institution from a slashing he suffered last week at the hands of another prisoner.

The news leaked out yesterday and with it came a story that Canty and some of the other prisoners have been enjoying special privileges because Canty's injuries were suffered in a scrap following a card game.

OPPOSES INDEPENDENT PHILIPPINE REPUBLIC

MANILA, P. I., March 10.—An independent Philippine republic at this time would be engulfed in the tidal waves of imperialism and subjugation, Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, minister to China, declared at a dinner tendered him by leading Filipinos. Dr. Schurman was chairman of the first Philippine commission appointed by President McKinley.

RICARD INDICTMENT STANDS

NEW YORK, March 10.—Supreme Court Justice Wasservogel yesterday denied a motion to dismiss the indictment charging Tex Rickard, sports promoter, with assault upon Alcoa Rusk, 15-year-old school girl. Rickard will be tried on March 20. The motion for dismissal was made by his lawyer "on information and belief that the indictment was made on illegal and incompetent evidence."

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Your blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full or discolored or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headaches or dizziness, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation; thus ending bladder, kidney and rheumatism. And Salts, in luxurious form, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

they may select at least 150 miles from a railway if they will promise to remain there. They are now locked up in the Butkowsky prison at Moscow and thus far have refused the "offer." Nevertheless a dozen or so of these prisoners have been released.

Mensheviks were arrested by the hundreds in every political center of Russia and are still in various prisons.

Other political prisoners are anarchists, the exiles of Professor Milukoff, former Russian foreign minister, officers and relatives from the various "white" and volunteer movements of the old imperialist sets including men from the Denikins and Wrangels armies.

In addition, there have been scattered through north and central Russian prisons and camps men connected with the efforts to establish independent republics in Georgia, Azerbaijan, the Kuban and other sections of south Russia and the Caucasus, including Terestian.

STRIKE "WAR" OF ATTRITION

Union Leader Says, "Mill Owners Licked" — Mill Men Optimistic

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 10. (By the Associated Press).—The Rhode Island textile strike, now in its seventh week, has developed into a "war of attrition," according to statements made today by representatives of both manufacturers and workers. Present attempts at arbitration of the strike difficulties ended this week when mill owners and strikers refused to accept a compromise, and a test of strength is promised by each of the two parties to the controversy.

"We will fight it out on these lines if it takes all summer," said William H. Derrick of the Amalgamated Textile Workers, head of the strike organization in the Pawtucket valley, where more than 6,000 operatives are idle. In borrowing the tactics of Gen. Grant, Dr. Derrick announced his objective to be a 48-hour week, no reduction in wages and no discrimination against strikers returning to work.

"Just as fast as the employees demonstrate that they want to go back, or any considerable number of them, the mills will be opened and they will be given employment," said Edward P. Walker, secretary of the Rhode Island Textile association. The manufacturers propose a 20 per cent wage reduction and a 54-hour week.

"Have Mill Owners Licked?"

Derrick claimed that the Pawtucket valley strikers could continue indefinitely without work. Seven soup kitchens in as many mill villages feed thousands of strikers daily. Contributions are coming in steadily from the outside, he said. The strikers, continuing to dwell in cottages owned by the mills, have roofs over their heads. Strike headquarters in Arctis have been leased for a year.

"If the mill owners evict our workers they will have to drive out about 30,000 people, counting five to a family," he declared. "Anyway, the weather is getting warmer, and they can live in tents. Our organization is brand new, dating back to the time the strike began, but our workers are a unit. We have the mill owners licked right now."

Representatives of the mill owners responded that the expenses of the free soup kitchens were three times the income of the strike fund daily, that hangers-on were being fed while legitimate workers in many cases were not, and that only a small group desired to enter on a fight to the finish with the mills. Many, they said, wanted to go to work again but were afraid of the "bludgeoned and black-listed."

Says Reopening a Failure

Derrick declared today that the reopening of mills closed by the strike had proved a failure. He asserted that in no instance had enough hands been obtained to make operation worth while. Mill owners, on the other hand, reported steady gains in the plants that have reopened.

In a list of 36 mills, Secretary Walker said that 30 had been completely closed at one time or another by the strike and that others partially closed. Of the 20 once closed, he declared that 12 were now in operation in some departments running all the way from 25 per cent capacity to full capacity in view of the orders at hand.

Plants listed by Secretary Walker as having reopened after complete shutdown were:

Interlaken Finishing plant, Arkwright, 50 per cent; Imperial Printing & Finishing Co., Belknap, more than 50 per cent; Hope Co., Hopedale, 20 per cent; Crown Manufacturing Co., Pawtucket, 25 per cent; Home Blend & Dye works, Attleboro, Mass., 30 per cent; Royal Weaving Co., Pawtucket, 50 per cent; Slater Yarn Co., Pawtucket, 30 per cent; United States Dyeing Co., Pawtucket, 100 per cent; B. B. & R. Knight, Inc., Nottingham mill, Providence, 100 per cent; Queen Dyeing Co., Providence, 100 per cent; United States Finishing Co., Silver Spring branch, 10 per cent; Woonsocket Falls mills, 100 per cent.

The Woonsocket Falls mills, mentioned in this list, commenced work with its workers last Saturday, granting the 48-hour week and wages were cut 5 to 10 per cent.

None Return to Work

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 10.—The finishing department of the Crompton Co.'s velvet and corduroy mill at Crompton in the Pawtucket valley opened this morning after having been closed with the rest of the plant for almost seven weeks. National guard cavalry and coast artillerymen, as well as deputy sheriffs and police, were on hand to provide protection for the workers who wanted to go in.

John A. Swanson, superintendent of the mill, said that not a single employee reported for work. He said, however, that the department would be kept open in case any did decide to come in later.

SOLICITOR SAYS ORDINANCE IS LEGAL

City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney said today that it is his opinion the city ordinance providing for an appropriation for the water department of $117,640 for hydrant and park department service is legal and unless it is repealed, the water department will receive the money.

Both the budget and audit commission and the mayor cut out the item from the water department estimates. The mayor later giving out the statement that in his opinion the ordinance is not legal.

The ordinance was passed by the municipal council of last year in July and provides for a blanket charge of $2000 to the park department and a charge for hydrant service of $10 per hydrant.

While Solicitor Tierney believes that the ordinance is legal, although he says he has not studied it, he questions whether or not it is the best method of securing the money.

Both he and the mayor incline to the belief that the water used in this way should be metered and bills rendered for the same sometime during the year. This would mean that the park and fire departments would have to pay the bills.

Wells, secretary-manager of the local chamber of commerce, to attend the convention of the New England Association of Commercial Executives, held in Worcester today and tomorrow, Wells is the local representative of the Lowell chamber at the convention. of the river in the neighborhood of the Gage Locks, extends as far as the eye can reach right down to the dam capstones.

Gate Keeper Walter Courtney this morning pointed out to a Sun man the figures "1852" chiseled in a large granite stone near the waterway running under the gate house this side of the Pawtucket bridge. The figures were put there by a former agent of the Locks and Canals Co., J. B. Francis, as marking the real "high spot" for a Merrimack river freshet rise. The figures in 1852 were 13 feet and four inches.

In 1896, during the last big freshet, the water climbed up toward the 1852 cap stone, reaching 13 feet and two inches.

Early yesterday morning the figures at the Locks and Canals showed that approximately 13,000 cubic feet of water was going over the dam. In the afternoon the figures reached considerably more than that amount.

Speculators gathering today on the bridge to see the tumbling waters over the falls, noticed dozens of large sea gulls that have been flying low over the waters just above the dam for several days past. Some of them float in the open water about 200 yards above the dam close to the ice house; others drop onto the ice and rest there for minutes at a time, while still more swoop down over the edge of the dam and in the tumbling white waters below the falls, watching for fish food.

POLICE MAKE RAID IN FAYETTE STREET

Federal and local police raided a near-booz saloon in Fayette street last night, after claiming to have purchased a pint of liquor, and found what they claim to be strong evidence of illegal liquor traffic. A warrant has been issued in the case and it is expected that an arrest will be made some time today.

The officers claim they bumped into another clever method devised for the purpose of fooling the police. A dipper, to which a 50 foot wire was attached, was found running along the rear of the bar. The police contend that this scheme was so arranged that a slight tug on the wire would cause the dipper to drop into a drain and over-turn so that its contents would be removed.

There was no "rifle-pulling" when the officers arrived because they made no attempt to "jump" the place. A member of the force was sent to the place in advance to make a purchase. The police claim he was successful and returned with a pint of liquor. An investigation of the premises was made by Sgt. Whinn, Officer Moore and Federal Prohibition Enforcement Agents Sheehan and Bowers.

Marie's Lunch opens tomorrow.

Fourteen-Year-Old Girl Saved From Consumption at the Critical Age When So Many Girls Go Into a Decline—This Girl Was Restored to Robust Health by Allen's Lung Healer

MRS. JACKSON'S LETTER

Mr. H. J. Allen:
Dear Sir:—Your Lung Healer has restored my 14-year-old niece to perfect health from the verge of consumption. She had a severe cough all last winter, which, in spite of all we could do for her, seemed to take a stronger hold. She began to fade and lose her appetite and strength and to grow thin and pale. Every breath of cold air caused severe coughing. Her lungs became sore and pained her a great deal, and she coughed up great lumps of phlegm. We sent her to the country for the summer, but she seemed no better this fall. As her father died of consumption, we believed she was in the grip of the dread disease. Hearing of the wonderful work of Allen's Lung Healer, we decided to give it a trial. The results were almost miraculous, as the cough was almost gone after using one bottle and after the second bottle she was entirely cured. She is now perfectly well and strong, has regained her lost flesh, eats heartily and can go out in the coldest weather without feeling any bad effects of catching cold. All this is due to your grand remedy, which should be called "The Great Life Saver."
MRS. GLORIA JACKSON,
107 Wyman St., West Lynn.
This letter was written 12 years ago, and this girl is now the strong healthy mother of several beautiful children.

It was planned to cruise on the "Nahmootka" as far south as Rock Lodge, probably stopping at favorable opportunities for golf. Secretary Weeks, who came from Miami where he has been spending several days, to welcome the party, was not planning to go on the houseboat cruise. Besides the president and Mrs. Harding, Brig. Gen. BLAMES DE VALERA FOR LIMERICK AFFAIR

DUBLIN, March 10.—(By the Associated Press.) Arthur Griffith, in the course of a statement issued last night regarding the Limerick affair, said: "The situation in Limerick is largely the outcome of inattention to discipline indulged in or connived at by some of the Limerick supporters. This negation of the action authority can under no circumstances be acquiesced in. "If Mr. de Valera will even now condemn the mutiny of the army, the danger of the situation in Limerick will be considerably lessened."

COX ASSAILS LODGE EVENING HIGH SCHOOL

Never in History Has There Been a Public Official of Such Evil Influence

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 10.—James M. Cox of Ohio, addressing the South Carolina general assembly, repeated his belief that the ill of the world were largely due to the failure of the United States to enter the League of Nations and assailed Senator Lodge as one of the leaders of the league opposition.

"No period of American history," Mr. Cox said, "has there been a public official who has been such an evil influence as has Henry Cabot Lodge."

Referring to Ambassador Harvey, Mr. Cox declared that "before he has heard the last of his statement that the United States went into the war to save its own hide, he may have difficulty in saving his."

INDICTMENTS REPORTED IN LOWELL CASES

The grand jury today returned true bills in all five Lowell cases brought before it in this city last Monday. The indictments were reported at the district attorney's office in Cambridge this morning.

The following, who were brought up for trial in the local lower court, were indicted: Antonio Labranche, robbery; James Anastasio, receiving stolen property; Wilfred J. Dalgemout and Thomas Foley, robbery; Victor L. Menon, Hugh Muldoon and Nicholas Cordas, breaking and entering a freight car; Michael A. Ramon, attempted larceny. Both Mason and Muldoon were indicted on several counts in connection with indictments returned against two other local men.

These cases will come up for trial at the next session of the superior court which is scheduled to sit here Monday. According to the district attorney's office none of these cases will be actually tried here as the court session will last only a day and then be transferred to East Cambridge.

Another case which caused much interest is the Gordon L. Pickering case, which is also listed for trial at this coming session.

Two bills on two counts were returned in this case, at a previous session of the grand jury. Pickering had two separate charges, both serious, brought against him in lower court. Judge Fisher found probable cause for holding him for the grand jury in both instances. The court's judgment was upheld as he was indicted on both counts.

Verdict reduced from $4050 to $1000

VERDICT REDUCED FROM $4050 TO $1000

Attorney Jas. E. O'Donnell was today notified that the superior court had sustained his contention in a case which was tried here during the last session of the civil court. According to a decision made by Judge Elias B. Bishop, who presided over the case in question, a verdict of $4500 rendered by a jury, against Attorney O'Donnell's client, has been reduced to $1000.

The case was that of Mrs. Kathoulia Soterellis vs. Marysina Soterellis in which was brought an action of tort alleging slander. The case was considered of much interest especially by local Greeks. It was hard fought by counsel on both sides.

According to the evidence submitted at the trial, it was alleged by the plaintiff that the defendant, while in the presence of her husband and others, made statements derogating and injuring to her character, causing her much mental anguish.

After hearing the evidence the jury after long deliberation, returned a verdict of $4500 in favor of the plaintiff. At that time Attorney O'Donnell took exception to the verdict on the grounds that the amount was excessive as compared with the weight of evidence presented and requested a new trial.

Judge Bishop, in his communication, agreed with the local attorney's view and announced the above mentioned reduction. According to the case as it

Names of Valedictorian and Salutatorian Announced by High School Principal

Announcement was made today by Principal Henry H. Harris that at the graduation exercises of the evening high school on April 4, Winfield S. Aldrich, 46 Smith street, son of Victor E. Aldrich, will be valedictorian and Miss M. Louise Jodoin, 153 Lakeview avenue, daughter of Alfred J. Jodoin, will be salutatorian. Both students have completed the 3-year course, passing the nine subjects with aptitude marks.

Miss Jodoin deserves special credit for her success. Although not in good health at times, she has insisted on attending her classes. One instance of her determination in this respect is afforded by the story that on a certain night, under unfavorable conditions and the opposition of her parents, she escaped by the back door and attended school. Her persistency has resulted in the attainment of the highest honor bestowed on a girl student.

The graduation class will hold a meeting next Monday evening after the school session, at which officers will be elected.

WILL SELL NO MORE DYNAMITE

The board of public service has instructed Supt. Doherty of the street department to sell no more dynamite either to individuals or corporations, because, in the opinion of the board, it is revenue that really never comes back to the street department.

The board says that approximately $2000 worth of dynamite is sold annually now the plaintiff has 10 days in which to accept the court's ruling, and unless she does this the verdict will be set aside by the court. A new trial would then be in order.

NEW BEDFORD, March 10.—Postal clerks engaged in the delivery of parcel-post packages will leave their motors running while delivering their packages, in the order of Postmaster George L. Oliver.

Postal employees, or anyone else, who leave their motors running when they leave their machines unattended, will be subjected to arrest, is the order of Police Chief Edward P. Doherty.

The conflict of federal and civil regulations has already been taken up by the Washington authorities, and meantime William C. H. Smith, a postal clerk, has appealed a $10 fine imposed in the district court after he had been summoned to court for violation of the city ordinance.

Machines operated by the local postal employees are not equipped with self starters, and Postmaster Oliver ordered the men to leave their motors running when they went into a house to deliver a package. Smith's appearance in court followed.

Asked yesterday if the arrangement of one of the clerks would tend to change the ruling, Postmaster Oliver said the order still stood. He declared there is nothing for the parcel post men to do but leave their motors running. "Either that or resign," remarked the postmaster.

"They will be subjected to arrest," remarked Chief Doherty.

Mrs. Obenchain Sobs Out
Story of Love for Man Slain in Los Angeles

Broker Shot to Death in Her Presence on Steps of His Summer Home

LOS ANGELES, March 10.—Madame Obenchain, who yesterday sobbed out on the witness stand the story of her love for J. Belmont Kennedy, for whose murder she is on trial, today faced the ordeal of cross-examination. In her direct examination Mrs. Obenchain testified that she had known Kennedy for five years, gradually reaching the climax of her love for him in the summer of 1919, when he was in Los Angeles. She told of her marriage to Ralph R. Obenchain, Chicago attorney, of the divorce he permitted her to obtain; of her coming to Los Angeles; of Kennedy's alleged plea for a secret marriage, because his mother objected to Mrs. Obenchain as a daughter-in-law; of the arrival here of Arthur C. Birch of Evanston, Ill., fatally infected with her for the murder of Kennedy, and of many details which linked these events together.

Once, she said, when she had tried to change the subject after Kennedy had asked her if she loved him, he declared: "If your lips won't tell that you love me, your eyes do."

Her counsel asked her if she had loved the young broker.

"I did love Belmont," she answered.

"And did he love you?"

"I believe he loved me."

"Did you have any agreement with Birch by which you were to bring about Kennedy's death?"

"Certainly not," she declared.

KILEY BEFORE JURY

Declares He Has No Evidence of Attempts Being Made to Approach Jurors

BOSTON, March 10.—Daniel J. Kiley, an attorney, explained to the Suffolk county grand jury today that statements which he made yesterday before a legislative committee in no way referred to the present trial.

Mr. Kiley who was asked to appear before the jury, said he had no evidence of attempts being made by lawyers or others to approach the present jurors for the purpose of exercising improper influences, as he had said was reported to be true of previous grand juries. He added that he had no evidence to submit.

In his remarks yesterday, Mr. Kiley was quoted as saying that deliberations of Suffolk county grand juries were talked over on street corners, before they were made public in court. He also referred to a "grand jury guild" which he said was organized among certain lawyers to obtain more deliberate control of grand juries.

He asserted today that yesterday's statements were matters of personal opinion and were based on suspicion and hearsay.

The grand jury made a written report of Mr. Kiley's remarks today to District Attorney O'Brien.

PICKET SENTENCED TO 60 DAYS IN JAIL

PAWBUCKET, R. I., March 10.—For attempting by threats and intimidation to prevent Chandler Telschman from pursuing his employment at the Jencks Spinning Co.'s plant, where a strike is in progress, Manuel Lopez, after pleading guilty in the district court today, was sentenced to 60 days in jail.

In response to the question, "Are you willing to go to jail to maintain the right to picket?" several hundred persons gave an affirmative vote at a meeting of strikers today. John H. Powers, member of the executive council of the United Textile Workers of America, asked the question when soliciting the proposal to ask the supreme court to give a ruling on mass picketing.

WILL START STREET PAVING EARLY

City Engineer Stephen Kearney said today that street paving will commence just the moment the frost is out of the ground and that this time is not far distant. He showed by the fact that tomorrow he will advertise streets that are about to be block paved and macadamized and notify all local public service corporations of the department's intentions.

Probably that starting in Westford street, between Loring street and Winter street, will be the first macadam job to be tackled.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, March 10.—Changes among leading shares were limited to fractions at the dull and irregular opening of today's stock market. The previous session, marked by moderate fluctuations, was followed by a decline in most of the leading issues, as well as in the general market. Early quotations for foreign exchange reflected unsettled political conditions abroad, and were generally lower than yesterday's. The closing was steady.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

ARE HELD UP

Plans for Year's Work Completed by Board of Public Service

The board of public service has completed its plans for its 1922 work and the city engineer will prepare a detailed program for presentation to the mayor and city council on or before next Monday, the 13th, the date specified in the charter for such a report.

The board virtually accepted the program outlined in recommendation form by Engineer Stephen Kearney, previously published, which calls for improvements for streets, sidewalks, bridges and first street, totalling $125,000.

Thomas Lee, manager of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co., conferred with the board at its meeting last yesterday afternoon and discussed paying programs as they affect the plans of the road for track improvements this year. As far as possible the railway and board will work together to obviate the necessity of tearing up a roadway more than once during the season.

Councillor James J. Gallagher appeared before the board in behalf of his plan to have Anne street developed into a public parkway. He said that men could be put to work there in the summer, as the road has been signed the council's order closing the street for park purposes. It is his plan to have most of the work done on a loan.

Several February Bills Held Up By Budget and Audit Commission

Bill for Wig and Whiskers
for Police Department Discussed and Approved

The budget and audit commission has held up a number of February bills presented for approval, including one for $100 in the name of J. Joseph Hennessy, former city auditor, for services rendered "various city departments." Bills were presented by members of the city council for expenses caused by some of the members now on the commission. The members of the commission are not allowed to draw salaries from the city. The amount of these expense bills vary from $2.30 to $10. Approval will be withheld until an explanation of the difference is obtained.

One bill approved, but which caused considerable discussion, was for a wig and whiskers for the police department in the sum of $200. The members of the commission could not imagine what sleuthing work in the local department required any such elaborate disguise, but the item finally was approved.

Former Auditor Hennessy's bill was held up until the commission determines the department to which it properly may be charged. It stands now as a general expense item, but the commission feels that it should be charged to either the law or mayor's department.

CHILDREN INJURED
BY AUTOMOBILES

Mila London, 6-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mary London, of 7 Agawam street, had a narrow escape from serious injury late yesterday afternoon when she was struck and knocked down by an automobile at the junction of Church and Appleton streets. As far as could be learned, the child was walking on the sidewalk with her mother, suddenly started on a run in the street and ran right into the path of an automobile operated by Albert P. Grant, of 43 Georgia avenue. The operator of the machine applied the brakes, but his attempts to bring his car to a full stop were fruitless and the child was struck. She was rushed to St. John's hospital, where after an examination it was found that her injuries were slight.

Gertrude Foster, 11 years, residing in Bay State court, was also struck by a machine in Bridge street late yesterday afternoon. In this case also, it is said, the child ran from the sidewalk into the path of an oncoming automobile and was struck and knocked down. The little girl was picked up by James Gilbride of 85 Albion street, placed in the automobile which struck her, and taken to St. John's hospital, where it was stated that her injuries were of a minor nature.

A third automobile accident occurred late yesterday afternoon when a boy who attends the Notre Dame de Lourdes parochial school, but whose name could not be learned, was struck by an automobile in Middlesex street. The boy got up apparently uninjured and ran away without giving his name. The driver of the car was Arthur S. Edwards, of 40 Marginal street.

STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING

The annual meeting of the Massachusetts state chamber of commerce is to be held in Boston on April 5, and the local chamber is planning to have a large representation present.

The banquet, considered the main feature of the convention, will be held at 6 p. m. in the Copley Plaza. The speakers of the evening will be Governor Channing H. Cox, of Massachusetts, the "Guest," and United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of "World Amity and the Washington Conference." This will be the first public address by the senator, except his speech at the republican state convention at Worcester on Feb. 11, analyzing the accomplishments of the history-making conference and the important treaties now before congress. Hon. Joseph E. Ransdell, U. S. senator from Louisiana, and Hon. S. Wallace Dempsey, member of congress from New York, will also speak. Senator Ransdell is advocating and Congressman Dempsey opposing the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway and power project. What it means to the country and to New England will be emphasized in the course of the debate.

A table has been reserved for the Lowell organization, and Secretary-Manager Wells is hopeful of a large attendance. The total attendance at the banquet is expected to be about 1000, and Mr. Wells would like to hear from any local members who desire to be present and thus help swell Lowell's representation.

FLOOD WATERS REDEEM
SPRINGFIELD, March 10.—(Reports from White River Junction, Vt., today indicated that the waters of the Connecticut river there had reached their peak at 12 p. m. yesterday and that immediate danger from flooding had been removed.

PLAN BIG CARNIVAL
The first steps toward holding a monster K. of C. carnival were taken last evening when a committee was authorized to consider the feasibility of conducting such an affair, the first of its kind in about 15 years in the council. Grand Knight John E. Hart presided over the meeting and District Deputy Charles J. Sanders presented the report of the committee appointed to draft resolutions on the death of the late John T. Hogan. The matter of conducting the annual fair of the council was left to a committee of ten to determine whether or not it is advisable. It was announced that an "Irish night" will be held in the council rooms on Thursday evening, with Hon. William H. O'Brien, of the public service board of Massachusetts as the speaker of the occasion. Mr. O'Brien is an eloquent speaker, thoroughly familiar with Irish affairs and his subject will be "America in the Making and the Part Played by the Irish." Mr. O'Brien is a charter member of Dorchester council of Boston and the officers of the council feel that a splendid treat is in store for the members. There will be music, both instrumental and vocal, Irish and Irish songs will predominate and a luncheon will be served.

On Thursday evening Mr. William E. Riley, of the State Normal school will give a talk before the members of "Education" and on Sunday afternoon, April 2nd, in Associate hall, Hon. Edward F. McSwiney, chairman of the Knights of Columbus historical commission, will speak on some interesting historical facts. Mr. McSwiney originally was scheduled to come to Lowell on March 25th but an important "Education" in Chicago made the change in date necessary. On April 18th, Hon. Charles S. O'Connor of Boston will speak on the significance of Patriots Day and the officers expect to have several more interesting talks to the council before the warm weather sets in.

Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan, chaplain of the council, spoke interestingly relative to council activities and future plans. It is possible if plans mature, that the carnival proposed will be held in the Memorial auditorium, or in the new K. of C. building on Dutton street now about to be remodelled.

C. M. A. C. FORMS LITERARY CLUB
With the aim of promoting the intellectual welfare of its members in view, the C. M. A. C. recently formed a literary club, composed of members of the new organization. The club is bound to be of some benefit to the entire community, for it is being planned to have public gatherings on various occasions during the year.

According to present arrangements a committee of five is to look after the conducting of the club, drawing up rules and regulations and later submit its plan at a general meeting of the association. This committee is composed of Joseph E. Schiller, chairman; Frank Leahy, vice chairman; Leon Lamoreaux, secretary; Alfred Achin, treasurer; and Arthur Sullivan, reporter.

The committee will endeavor to organize lectures with prominent speakers on various topics of interest and to prepare mock trials and debates. It is expected that the first lecture will be held shortly after Easter. The committee will also be holding a reception in the room of the C. M. A. C. for the purpose of furthering its plans.

The play is under the personal direction of Mr. Wm. R. Sydeman, who has taken part in many amateur plays produced by the Lowell high school, Lowell Textile school, and Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A.'s of Lowell and other cities. He will best be remembered as the Dutch detective in the play of the same name played by the Lowell Textile school some five or six years ago. Mr. Sydeman is ably assisted by Mrs. Mary Cohen who has proved herself a reliable and her versatility in the line of dramatics.

Rehearsals are progressing rapidly and there is no question but the affair will be a success. The cast includes former high school star talent and many others who have taken part in amateur productions.

A meeting of the club will be held Sunday evening and an interesting debate will be conducted. The question to be debated is, "Resolved: that the president of the United States should be elected for a term of six years and be ineligible for re-election." Myer Arjoly will uphold the affirmative while the negative will be taken care of by Meyer Z. Liepitz.

LOWELL HEBREW DRAMATIC CLUB
At the last meeting of the Lowell Hebrew Dramatic club all arrangements were completed for the successful production of "The District Attorney," a comedy drama in three acts. It will be staged in Colonial hall on March 20, 1922, at 8 o'clock sharp. General dancing till 1 o'clock will follow the play. The dramatic club orchestra, under the able supervision of Mr. Saul A. Stern will furnish the music.

FLOOD WATERS REDEEM
SPRINGFIELD, March 10.—(Reports from White River Junction, Vt., today indicated that the waters of the Connecticut river there had reached their peak at 12 p. m. yesterday and that immediate danger from flooding had been removed.

DRAMATIC CLUB
At the last meeting of the Lowell Hebrew Dramatic club all arrangements were completed for the successful production of "The District Attorney," a comedy drama in three acts. It will be staged in Colonial hall on March 20, 1922, at 8 o'clock sharp. General dancing till 1 o'clock will follow the play. The dramatic club orchestra, under the able supervision of Mr. Saul A. Stern will furnish the music.

The play is under the personal direction of Mr. Wm. R. Sydeman, who has taken part in many amateur plays produced by the Lowell high school, Lowell Textile school, and Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A.'s of Lowell and other cities. He will best be remembered as the Dutch detective in the play of the same name played by the Lowell Textile school some five or six years ago. Mr. Sydeman is ably assisted by Mrs. Mary Cohen who has proved herself a reliable and her versatility in the line of dramatics.

Rehearsals are progressing rapidly and there is no question but the affair will be a success. The cast includes former high school star talent and many others who have taken part in amateur productions.

A meeting of the club will be held Sunday evening and an interesting debate will be conducted. The question to be debated is, "Resolved: that the president of the United States should be elected for a term of six years and be ineligible for re-election." Myer Arjoly will uphold the affirmative while the negative will be taken care of by Meyer Z. Liepitz.
